War Costs Slash Into Great Society Plans

South Viet Nam Troops Pierce Red Stronghold

Tough Viet Cong Battalion Returns Heavy Gunfire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese troops roving Go Cong Province 35 miles southwest of Saigon in the Mekong Delta penetrated a Viet Cong hornets' nest today and touched off a big gunfight.

The reinforced multibattalion-sized government units apparently pierced the outposts of an old Viet Cong stronghold and were lashed by 50-caliber machine gun and 57-caliber recoilless rifle fire. A U.S. military spokesman, reporting the outbreak, said the fire was heavy and was continuing through the afternoon.

Reports reaching Saigon indicated the government troops probably flushed a main Viet Cong battalion, one of the veteran hard-core outfits which has been in the field a long time.

Battered Marines

This is the kind of Viet Cong force that has plagued and battered government troops and U.S. Marines for more than three days 350 miles to the north in the paddy fields inland from the South China Sea coast.

Marines, continuing the battle with troops from shore bases and from the carrier Valley Forge, had rough going under heavy attack Friday night but reported today that the Viet Cong were evading an open confrontation with the multibattalion Americans.

Moving up from the south toward the government forces, the Marines made only light contact with Viet Cong snipers and the main enemy force slipped away during the morning.

Marine patrols took heavily fortified positions without opposition, including barbed wire outposts and a big tunnel system 10 feet underground The tunnels, disguised by tented doors and bamboo constructions at the entrances contained sleeping rooms that could accommodate 75 persons.

Marine casualties in the operation were described as light. There were no reports of Viet Cong casualties except for a two-day total of 74 Viet Cong dead exacted by both government and Marine troops.

Rumors of much higher figures in the continuing hunt-and-dodge operation found no

Set for Historic Events

Spacemen Sleep in Cold, Tumbling Bed

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex (AP)—After a night of fitful sleep in a cold, tumbling spacecraft, the Gemini 7 pilots flew on courageously today toward a world space endurance record and the historic rendezvous with another orbiting ship.

The temperature in the cabin dropped 20 degrees during the night, astronaut Frank Borman reported.

Borman had taken off his spacesuit and was flying in his underwear when the sharp drop came. He put on two lightweight flight suits, his own and that of his co-pilot, James A. Lovell, to protect himself from the cold.

Reserved for Sleep

Asked if he had put on the suits before the start of the night's sleep period, Borman said he did it during the time reserved for sleep

"Did the tumbling of the spacecraft have anything to do with your lack of sleep?" the astronaut was asked.

"No," he replied. "We didn't know we were tumbling until we woke up."

The pilots stopped the end-over-end tumbling of the spacecraft by use of their attitude control jets.

Mission control experts theorized the tumbling was caused by expulsion outside the cabin of condensed water from the spacesuit cooling systems. This would exert an influence on the spacecraft's movements much like that of the attitude control jets.

Solar Rays

The tumbling then led to the temperature drop, because he sun's rays at times were striking areas of the spacecraft which did not absorb the heat.

Bearded and slightly hoarse, but still remarkably good-natured, Air Force Lt. Col. Borman and Navy Cmdr. Lovell were scheduled to reach the mid-point of their long flight about 11.15 a.m. (EST).

Gemini 7 entered its 103rd orbit at 9:45 a.m.

Sunday is the big day. Gemini 7 breaks the world's space endurance record, and the United States makes its adventurous attempt to have two spacecraft rendezvous and fly formation in space, perhaps only inches apart

Nothing appeared to stand in the way of a 9:54 a.m. blastoff of Gemini 6 from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Sunday.

Launch Teams Busy

Launch teams busily readied the mighty Titan 2 rocket that will boost astronauts Walter M Schirra Jr a Navy captain, and Thomas P. Stafford, an Air Foce major, onto a 100,000-mile chase after Gemini 7. Enough fuel to boil out 430,000 pounds of thrust will be pumped into the towering launch vehicle tonight.

The Gemini 6 spacehunters, mission control and the worldwide tracking network practiced until late Friday night orbital maneuvers that will carry Schirra and Stafford nose to nose with the Gemini 7 crew.

Dubbed "The Spirit of '76," the dual flight casts a plot of the hunter and the hunted, with Gemini 6 stalking space in search of Gemini 7 riding a circular path around the globe 185 miles high.

Hopefully, at 3:26 p.m., there'll arrive the big moment of meeting, some fond waves between the two teams of astronauts, a picture taking session, and then the formation flight. Some 6½ hours later the two crews go their separate ways, with Gemini 6 possibly returning to earth the next morning.

LBJ Move Interpreted As Warning

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has launched an effort to convince the Communists he is willing to curb new "Great Society" programs to finance the war in Viet Nam.

This was a followup to Johnson's public warning Thursday that he will order "other hard steps" in Viet Nam if all prospects for peace prove futile.

Hanoi, Peking and Moscow, however, were not the only targets of disclosures Friday that civilian programs — even those Johnson pushed through Congress this year — will be curtailed because of spiraling costs of the Viet Nam war.

Obviously, Johnson wanted American voters — and the Congress members who voted for the new programs — to be prepared for emergency curtailments should peace appeals fail.

Official Conferences

A procession of top officials paraded before newsmen at White House press headquarters here, after conferring with Johnson at his ranch home. All either said their spending plans were being cut below current levels or, at best, that they couldn't say or were fighting to preserve their programs

In this administration, officers of Cabinet level do not normally volunteer such revelations without a presidential okay. And when the chief executive gives such authorization more than a month before the new budget goes to Congress, he has a motive.

The clear meaning was that Johnson wants everyone to know — here and in the Communist capitals — that the United States means business in Viet Nam.

Lower Commerce Budget

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, perhaps significantly, announced the only big budget authorization disclosed during the day: plans for a long-range $1 75-bilion program to replace aging B52 and B58 bombers by 1971 with a new FB111—a modified version of the controversial TFX fighter

Trio Charged With Killing Reeb Freed By All-White Jury

Verdict Raises Threat of More Racial Strife in Selma

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — The acquittal of three white men charged with the civil rights killing of a white Boston minister left Selma faced today with the threat of renewed racial strife.

A spokesman for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said the verdicts returned by an all-white jury after 95 minutes deliberation Friday probably will touch off an increase in demonstrations, "especially in Selma."

"The (Negro) people of Selma are pretty upset about this," the Rev. Andrew Young, executive secretary of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said in Atlanta.

"It just means that any Negro or civil rights worker can be killed a block away from the heart of town, and those responsible for it probably will be acquitted."

The Rev. James J Reeb, a 38-year-old Unitarian minister and father of four children, was waylayed along with two other white clergymen the night of last March 9 on a street corner one block from Selma's main thoroughfare, Broad Street.

The Boston clergyman, who had come to Alabama to join the struggle for Negro voting rights, was clubbed to the ground, and died two days later in a Birmingham hospital with a massive brain injury. His companions also were roughed up by a gang of white men but escaped with slight injury.

Charged with first-degree murder were a 42-year-old novelty company manager, Elmer L. Cook; an auto mechanic, Namon O'Neal Hoggle, 31, and his brother, William Stanley Hoggle, 37, a salesman.

Spectators in the crowded wood-paneled courtroom clapped hands and shouted when the trial jury returned the three verdicts — one for each defendant.

At the suggestion of defense attorney Joseph T. Pilcher, the jubilant defendants stood silent when newsmen asked them for comment.

F111 Fighters To be Altered Into Bombers

McNamara Claims They'll Make Up A 210-Plane Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S McNamara plan to wave a $1.75 - billion wand and change F111 fighters into FB111 strategic bombers, intended to comprise a 210-plane fleet by 1971, actually will be only a variant of the F111 all-purpose tactical fighters now in production for the Navy and Air Force.

But the defense boss told newsmen they would be able to fly to a target twice as fast and with about the same range as the latest models of the eight-jet, subsonic B52s which they will replace.

He said the FB111 will be able to carry a load of 50 conventional bombs, each weighing 750 pounds — about the same as B52s now carry — or deliver nuclear weapons. But it will have "greater penetrating ability and military effectiveness," he said.

In talking at a Texas news conference following a meeting Friday between Johnson, himself and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, McNamara had a retort for some senators and others who criticized the announcement earlier in the week of a cutback in bases, with corresponding reduction in the number of B52s: "They spoke much too soon."

The program which he said Johnson approved at the meeting shows "no plans to eliminate strategic bombers from the force," McNamara declared.

Beheaded Buddha Has U. S. Alarmed

Action Blamed on Marine Could Set Off Round of Demonstrations

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. authorities are alarmed at Vietnamese Buddhist charges that a U.S. Marine beheaded a Golden Buddha image in a pagoda at Da Nang on Dec. 3.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is known to have told the Buddhist hierarchy today he will immediately look into the matter.

The principal monk at the pagoda, Thich Giac Ngo, has offered to disembowel himself because of the incident, Buddhist sources said.

Already, 500 buddhists have demonstrated through the streets of Da Nang urging that the culprit be punished.

Lodge is known to have told the Buddhists that all damage would be repaired with U.S. money, even if it was not proved that Americans were involved.

A Buddha image is equivalent to a crucifix or cross in the Christian churches.

U S. officials fear that the Da Nang pagoda issue could build into serious anti-American feelings among millions of Viet Nam's Buddhists

The incident allegedly took place at the Khue Bac pagoda in Da Nang East near several big U.S. Marine installations. One of the monks reported he saw a U.S Marine leaving the concrete pagoda at dawn on the morning of the incident.

The monk discovered that the big Golden Buddha image had been decapitated and that sacred ornaments and artifacts had been scattered over the floor.

Monks in the Da Nang area told their followers that the pagoda had been contaminated and could not be used again.

30-Day Sentence Given Ex-Nun for Rights Protesting

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A former Roman Catholic nun has been sentenced to 30 days in jail after a sixth day of civil rights protest against the construction of a public school of a predominantly Negro neighborhood

The arrest of Miss Marilyn Morheuser, 41, and three other persons Friday brought the arrest total in the demonstrations at the site of the MacDowell elementary school to 19, including one person arrested on two different occasions.

Miss Morheuser, a member of a teaching order for 20 years before being relieved of her vows, was the first demonstrator to be sentenced to jail.

County Judge Christ T. Seraphim imposed the sentence after Miss Morheuser refused in court to promise to refrain from the demonstrations, which the judge labeled as illegal.

Aging 'Ex-Con' Gets 60 Years

FAIRFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Circuit Court has sentenced Charles (Black Charlie) Harris, 69, to at least 60 years in prison for the slayings last year of a former girl friend and her male companion.

The ex-convict, one of tre FBI's 10 most-wanted fugitives earlier this year, probably will remain in Wayne County Jail until a Dec. 18 hearing on his request for dismissal of a perjury indictment.

Judge Charles E. Jones sentenced Harris after turning down Friday his motion for a new trial. He was given 60-75 years on each of two murder counts, and 10-15 years for arson with terms to run concurrently.

Own Car Kills Chilton Youth

David Daun Struck By Auto After Being Thrown From Vehicle

CHILTON—A 19-year-old rural Chilton youth was killed instantly early today when he was thrown from his vehicle and struck by it as he lay on the shoulder of U S. 151 and State 55, 9 miles southwest of here.

The death of David J. Daun, 19, Route 3, raises Wisconsin's 1965 highway toll to 960, compared with 1,011 on this date a year ago.

Daun was traveling alone at 1:12 a.m. Saturday south on U S. 151 and State 55 when he apparently lost control of his car, according to Calumet County Coroner Leroy Hughes. The vehicle overturned throwing Daun onto the right shoulder and then struck him before coming to stop in an upright position 10 feet away.

Multiple Fractures

Hughes said the death was due to multiple skull and facial fractures. Daun also suffered fractures of the right arm and right leg.

It was the 11th fatal traffic accident of the year in Calumet County, compared with eight at this time a year ago.

Funeral arrangements at Pfeffer's Funeral Home, Chilton, are incomplete at this time.

Highway Death Toll Likely to Hit 1,000

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's annual highway traffic toll will likely pass the 1,000 mark again unless there is a sudden drop in motor vehicle traffic, Gov. Warren P. Knowles said Friday.

"Trouble ahead is signaled," said Knowles, "by clear and open highways, mild weather and the nearing approach of two gay three-day holidays."

Domestic Peace Corps Disrupting Community

Indian Tribe Tempted to Scalp 'VISTA' Workers

By JAMES R. POLK

RED CLIFF, Wis. (AP)—Indian elders sealed their tribal hall to two young coeds today and ordered them off their reservation in an uprising over the federal government's new domestic peace corps program.

Although threatened with being jailed, the two volunteers vowed to remain.

"We want very much to stay here. We feel we are needed," said Judy Rothman, 20, a member of Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA).

"They've disrupted the whole community. They destroyed two programs that would have been benefit to everyone," charged Mrs. Henry Bresette, a member of the tribe.

Youth Club

The dispute flamed over the two volunteers' creation of a youth club while tribal elders preferred they operate a nursery program so Indian mothers could seek jobs to help the reservation's pinched economy.

A new padlock was placed Thursday on the small, cementblock Community Hall on the Red Cliff Indian Reservation, a frigid and forsaken strip of land curling around Wisconsin's northernmost point jutting into Lake Superior 50 miles east of Duluth, Minn.

Two members of the tribal council and Bayfield County Sheriff Ellsworth O. Embertson waded through three feet of snow to deliver the Indians' edict to the VISTA workers last night. Both sides agree that Embertson said that if the pair approached the hall "his jail would be filled."

However, Judy, of University City, Mo., and Jill Hunt, 22, Kewanee, Ill., said other Indians in the 300-member Red Cliff band of Chippewas were already circulating a petition asking the council to change its ruling.

Henry Bresette, 50, member of the nine-man council, said the vote to expel the VISTA workers was 7 - 0, with tribal president Henry G. Daley absent but later signing the letter barring the pair from the hall. Miss Rothman said the petition already has 40 names, including four council members, among them Daley.

The two young women, who left college to join Vista, were invited to the reservation by the Indians' Community Action Program (CAP), a self-help project awaiting a federal grant of more than $80,000. Its chairman was Mrs. Bresette. Its main goal was a 10 - unit housing project for the needy.

Judy and Jill came in October. "We decided we would start just a small time pre school project," said Mrs. Bresette. "It lasted only a very short time. The girls said they weren't here as babysisters. They seemed to resent any kind of authority."

"We felt we were being made a kind of an extension of the CAP program instead of VISTA being a separate project as it should be," said Judy. "This was basically the

Viking Cagers Win, 77-70, Over Grinnell

Steinmetz, Simon Pace Lawrence To First Victory

GRINNELL, IOWA — Sohomore pivotman Steve Simon and captain Tom Steinmetz sparked the Lawrence University Vikings to their first cage victory of the season, a 77-70 triumph over Grinnell here Friday night.

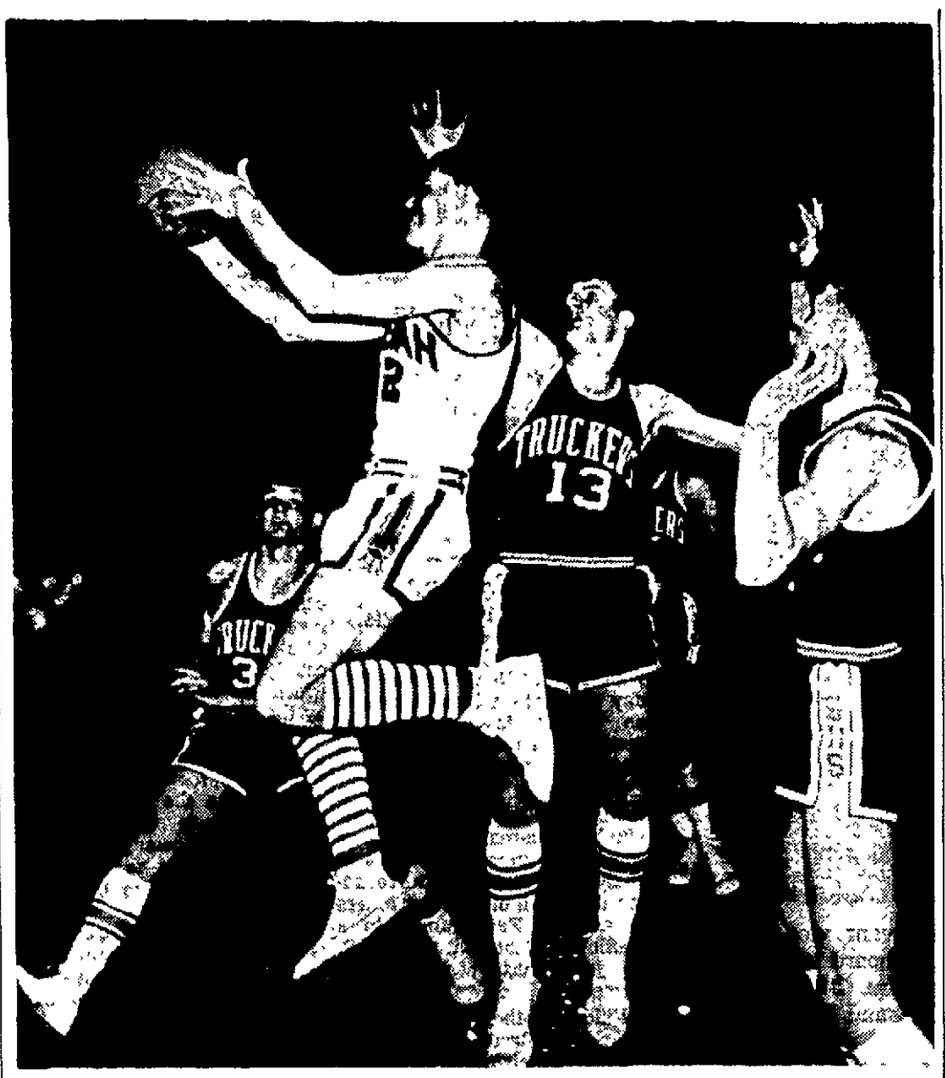

Simon, a 6-3 smothie from Shorewood, and Steinmetz, 6-2, ex-Menasha High School star, ripped the nets for 24 and 21 points, respectively, while pulling down a total of 23 rebounds.

The Vikes led virtually the entire game after jumping out to a quick 10-5 advantage in the opening minutes But the Pioneers rallied midway through the first period to take a 19-18 lead.

Lawrence started hitting again, however, erasing a 31-30 deficit and pulling ahead to stay at the end of the first half, 38-33.

The Vikes enjoyed a 51-43 lead midway through the second period, only to see Grinnell cut the margin to 69-66 with 1:40 left to play. Steinmetz then dropped in a pair from the charity line, and Simon hit a field goal to move the winners to a more comfortable 73-66

Milt Bruhn Survives Ouster Attempt, Gets Regents' OK

Veteran Football Coach Given 7-3 Vote of Confildence, Will Call a Meeting of UW Squad

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milt Bruhn has survived the slings and arrows of a second consecutive season of horrors and will be given another chance next fall to restore Wisconsin's sagging football fortunes.

The university's Board of Regents gave Bruhn, one of the nice men among Big Ten football coaches, a vote of confidence Friday, rejecting seven votes to three an Athletic Board recommendation that he be let go.

"You know, I've been coaching for 30 years," said the 53-year-old Bruhn, "and I never wanted to do anything else. I have been at Wisconsin 10 years but today, well, this is just like getting the job for the first time."

Bruhn holds the job on a year to year basis.

One of the first things he plans to do is call a meeting of his football players. "I recognize that calling a squad meeting after the season ends is a bit unusual but I think that we have had some unusual circumstances here and I would like to get them together. You know, they have been a little concerned about this too."

Rumors Rampant

Rumors of Bruhn's impending ouster had been rampant since before the end of a dreadful 1965 season when the Badgers, who lacked depth, speed and skill, managed to win only two games while losing seven and battling Colorado to a scoreless tie. They were 3-6 in 1964.

The rumors started when the Badgers lost 50-14 to Michigan, waxed stronger when they lost the following week 45-7 to Purdue, and reached their peak when the Badgers fell over Illinois 51-0. By the time Wisconsin closed its season with a 42 - 7 loss to Minnesota, it was taken for granted that Bruhn was through as Badger coach.

The Athletic Board proved there was substance to the rumors by voting 4-3 at a secret meeting Nov. 23 to recommend Bruhn's ouster. One person, Prof. V. W. Maloche, the board chairman, abstained.

But Fred Harvey Harrington, university president, and chancellor Robben Fleming decided to go against the board's advice and urge the regents to retain Bruhn.

Harrington explained that he didn't believe the 4-3 vote by the

Zephyrs Rally In Final Period To Win, 39-37

Gage and Heroux Pace Comeback Against Cavaliers

MARINETTE — The Menasha St. Mary High School basketball team rallied in the fourth quarter to beat Marinette's Cavaliers and square their Fox Valley Catholic Conference record at 1-1 Friday night.

The Zephyrs, who trailed 30-26, after three periods, were paced by Mike Gage and Mike Heroux in the fourth - quarter comeback. Gage scored seven points in the period to finish as the night's top scorer, with 15 points. Heroux hit two baskets in the fourth stanza and wound up with 10 points for the game.

After a slow, 6-6 first quarter, St. Mary moved out to a 17-14 halftime edge. The Cavaliers enjoyed a big third quarter (16-9) to pull ahead.

The Zephyrs made five of 18 free throws, while Marinette had sank seven of 19. Marinette now has a 1-2 league record.

Bucs Trade Bob Friend To Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees had just announced they had moved to bolster their position in the American League by acquiring pitcher Bob Friend, a 35-year-old veteran who had a losing record with Pittsburgh's National League pennant-contenders last season.

Noting that the Friday trade, in which the Yankees sent reliever Pete Mikkelsen and an undisclosed amount of cash to the Pirates, was of the fringe variety and that Friend had a career record of 14-2 against the New York Mets, someone asked:

Was Friend acquired so he could start against the Mets in the Mayor's Trophy Game, an annual mid-summer exhibition?

Ralph Houk, the Yankee general manager, laughed heartily but said sharply:

"No, we didn't."

The answer and the trade, however, may have indicated that the Yankees have adopted somewhat of a stand-pat attitude, figuring that last year's nosedive to sixth place was due to a combination of factors rather than a drop-off in player talent.

Colts' Shula Respects Bays' Defensive Unit

Cites Davis, Wood In Particular; Lauds Cuozzo

By JACK HAND

BALTIMORE (AP) — Don Shula has a healthy respect for the Green Bay defense, Willie Davis and Willie Wood in particular, and looks for another bruising head-knocker Sunday when his Baltimore Colts meet the Packers in the National Football League's game of the year.

Baltimore, 9-2-1, and Green Bay, 9-3-0, will be fighting for first place in the Western Division on this next-to-last Sunday of the season.

"Just look where the ball is and you'll find Willie Davis and Willie Wood," said the Baltimore coach. "Green Bay has the finest defense in the league, real pressure defense. Forget the yards other teams have run against them, look at the touchdowns scored — nine on the ground and only seven in the air in 12 games."

Respectful as he is of the Packers' defense, Shula is confident young Gary Cuozzo can do the job as a replacement for injured Johnny Unitas at quarterback.

SHEBOYGAN — Sheboygan South High School proved it is a power to be reckoned with in the Fox River Valley Conference by whipping Appleton, 75-65, here Friday night.

The Terrors never led in the contest, but stayed close enough until the final minutes to keep their hopes alive.

South, in ending AHS' 2-season conference winning streak at 11 straight, now shares the FRVC lead with Green Bay West, at 3-0.

The Redmen's winning margin came via the free throw line as both teams bucketed 27 two-pointers. Other telling factors in the Terrors' first 1965-6 defeat were South's rattling man-to-man defense and the outstanding rebounding of the winners' Chris Kroos.

Trumm Scores

South's Mark Trumm began the scoring by swishing in a long shot. For the first four minutes the teams stayed tight, when the Teror's Dennis Vaubel tied the score at 10-10 on a twisting jump shot. The redmen then went into the lead with five straight points.

Down 27-15, early in the second quarter the Terrors put on a spurt which saw Vaubel drop in a 2-pointer, George Hoffman and Bob Simon score on fast breaks, Pat Garvey make a free shot and Simon score again on a 1-hander from outside. This reduced the AHS deficit 27-24, but then Sheboygan broke out of a 4-minute scoring draught as John Meyer tallied on a fast break.

Vaubel kept the Appleton attack going with a bucket. The hosts retaliated by scoring six straight points which brought the half to an end with a 35-26 score.

Appleton was down, 51-41 with 2:24 remaining in the third quarter when it came to life and scored eight quick points to the hosts' 2 and closed the gap to 53-49.

The Redmen stormed into the fourth quarter, scoring seven points in the first minute and a half, while the Terrors were scoreless. In this scoring spree, which put Appleton at an insurmountable 60-49 disadvantage, Fischer scored on a fast break, Trumm combined a 3-pointer and Fischer tallied again on a jump shot. The Terrors efforts to stay alive resulted in 12 fouls in the last quarter on which the Redmen made 10 points.

South's John Meyer was high point-man of the game with seven field goals and five free throws. The Terrors' best ofensive efforts were made by Vaubel and Hoffman with 15 points each. The winners' Steve Fischer also tallied 15.

AHS was plagued by foul trouble and cold shooting. Jon Griffith was benched with five fouls and George Hoffman and Simon each had 4.

Griffith went 18½ minutes in the game without a point and Steve Winter also did not score until the third quarter. Garvey could manage only five points in the first half. Despite their superior height, the Terrors were outrebounded.

SOUTH — (23 12 18 22 — 75) Meyer 7 5 3; Trumm 6 1 3; Kroos 2 9 3; Petta 5 5 4; Fischer 7 1 3; Ehlert 0 0 1. Totals 27 21 17.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten Stout has taken undisputed possession of first place in the Wisconsin State Universities Conference, whipping Whitewater 81-88 Friday night while Platteville was rolling over River Falls 87-63.

The results left Stout with a 3-0 conference record, putting it one-half game up on Platteville and Oshkosh in the WSUC race.

Both Platteville and Oshkosh, winner over Eau Claire 113-69, have 2-0 conference records.

In the only other WSUC game Friday, Stevens Point downed Superior 87-70.

The logjam at the top could be broken up today when Stout travels to Stevens Point and Platteville entertains winless Superior.

In other WSUC games, La-Crosse is at Whitewater, and River Falls at Oshkosh. Eau Claire meets St. Norbert's in a non-conference match.

Oshkosh, 2-0 in the conference and 3-2 overall, managed to get off 112 shots against Eau Claire and hit on 46 per cent of them. Eau Claire scored on only 23 per cent of theirs. Stan Johnson salvaged something for the losers as he took game scoring honors with 23 points. Tom Witasek was high with 21 for Oshkosh.

KIMBERLY — The co-favorites for Mid-Eastern Conference honors tangled in a game which was anyone's contest for 44 minutes here Friday night, but a cold final four minutes in which the Papermakers went scoreless for almost three minutes while Menasha rang up eight points permitted the Bluejays to take a 69-62 decision.

The Bluejays were red hot, hitting on 29 of 56 shots from the floor while the best Kimberly could manage was 25 of 78 attempts. The Papermakers opened fast with Bob Van Gompel setting the pace as they ran up a 6-0 lead in the first two minutes of play. Don Steffin broke the scoring ice for Menasha, but Kimberly still managed a comfortable 8-2 lead with almost half the quarter gone.

Regains Lead

The Jays then rallied and with 2:28 left in the period moved to a 12-11 advantage. Kimberly moved back to a 15-14 lead before Tom Vanderhyden swished a bucket to put Menasha back in the lead with 17 seconds remaining. Van Gompel scored on a free throw with two seconds left to deadlock the game at 16-all.

The winners moved in front shortly after the start of the second frame and through control of the backboards moved to a 26-19 lead with 3:12 remaining in the contest During the spurt Kimberly lost the ball on several occasions without taking a shot, while Menasha managed to break a man free against the Kimberly press for easy scores.

The Papermakers rallied in the next minute to cut the Fox Valley Lutheran High School pulled its second major surprise victory in eight days as it staged a fourth-quarter comeback to down Milwaukee University School, 65-57, here Friday night in Midwest Prep Conference action.

FVL now shares the MPC lead with Wisconsin Lutheran, 83-50 victors over Wayland Friday night, and will seek its third conference win and fourth straight over-all against Concordia tonight.

University School was making its conference debut and is 1-2 overall.

In the third quarter with the Wildcats holding 10-point advantages at 37-27 with 4:40 left and again with :39 left at 45-35, it looked as if it was just a matter of time before University School would wrap up its first conference win, because they had led the entire game up to this point.

However, Fox Lutheran came to life in the last :39 of the third quarter with seven points, on a hook by Dave Tiedt, a 3-point play by Tom Ehlke and a tip-in by Mark Dahlke to make it 45-42 at the end of the quarter.

Dahlke Scores

Coming into the fourth quarter with new life, Fox Valley's Dahlke tallied a free throw to close the margin at 45-43, but Stew Dill scored on a lay-up for a four-point lead for the Wildcats. Dennis Neumann clicked for two on a 20-foot set shot, then Howie Korth hit on a 25-footer to tie the game at 47-47 and seconds later he hit on another jumper to put FVL in the lead for good at 49-47. Ehlke added a charity toss, but Bill Mason tallied two for the Wildcats to close the gap at 50-49. In the next minute and a half, Fox Lutheran registered six straight points to open its lead at 56-49.

University School paniced and in a desperate effort to get control of the ball began fouling and FVL dropped in seven free throws to gain a 10-point advantage with :16 left at 65-55, for their biggest lead.

FVL used a full-court press for the entire game, causing hurried shots by University School and also resulting in 23 turnovers of the ball on bad passes, fumbles, or violations as compared to 13 for FVL.

NEENAH — Clintonville and Neenah, forgetting most of their defensive lessons, hooked up in a wild-scoring affair here Friday night and when the outcome finally was decided with seven seconds left to play the Rockets had an 83-79 triumph.

The verdict was the hosts' second straight in Mid-Eastern Conference play while Clintonville is 1-1. Neenah goes to Kaukauna tonight, and the Clints trek to Shawano.

Unofficially, Neenah peppered the ball at the nets 100 times and connected on 36 occasions. The Truckers only took 64 shots but were successful on 28 for a 44 per cent clip. The latter also had a good night at the charity line, canning 23 of 22.

In addition to the high number of shots, there were many off-target passes and interceptions and all things combined, it made for a wild evening.

5-Point Lead

Neenah had a 5-point bulge late in the third period but aside from that no more than three points separated the teams most of the game. Single point margins showed on the scoreboard after each of the first three quarters.

The Clints took a 62-61 advantage into the final eight hectic minutes and they added the first basket of the frame on Mike Pasch's layup.

Neenah finally tied the count at 69-all with 5:30 left to play. Later it was 71-71, 73-73 and 77-77 as Clintonville's Pete Korb made two free throws with 2:30 remaining to gain the deadlock.

A few seconds later, Jim Koepke broke the knot with two free throws and with 1:20 left on the clock, he added a field goal. Ten seconds after that, Jerron Dieck's two gifters cut the spread to 81-79.

Clintonville got the ball on a bad pass with 44 seconds left but lost it the same way at the 37 second mark.

With 20 seconds left, Koepke fouled Mike Pasch in a scramble for the ball but the latter missed his first shot on the

Free Throw Accuracy, Height Decisive

Premontre Quint Nips Chuters, 71-68

LITTLE CHUTE — Height and free throw accuracy, particularly in the fourth period, paid off for Green Bay Premontre as the Cadets spoiled Little Chute St. John's second straight Fox Valley Catholic Conference upset bid by posting a 71-68 victory here Friday night.

The Chuters, who dumped conference favorite St. Mary Menasha last week, had another potential shocker in the works as they stayed with the rangy Cadets throughout the game, but ran into a spell of cold shooting in the final period.

The victory was the first for Premontre this season after six straight setbacks. The Cadets have a 1-2 league mark while the Chuters are 1-1 in the conference and 2-3 overall.

Two Field Goals

Premontre made only two field goals in the final eight minutes of play, but they made up for that on the free throw line. The Cadets hit 12 of 14 charity tosses in the final quarter after bagging only nine of 15 in the first three periods. The Chuters were whistled for eight personals in the last quarter having only nine through the entire first three segments of action.

St. John had an edge in the field goal department hitting 28 to 25 for Premontre. The Chuters had 74 shots from the floor for 38 per cent while the Cadets took 64 shots and hit at 39 per cent.

St. John was hot through the first three periods with 23 field goals out of 51 shots for 45 per cent. In the last quarter, the Dutchmen tried 23 shots and connected on only five.

Height proved to be a big factor as the Cadets controlled the rebounds, particularly in the final quarter.

Schuler Has 19

Sophomore Ed Schuler took scoring honore for the Chuters and for the game with 19 points on seven field goals and five of eight free throws. Gary Romenesko was right behind with 17 markers and also played an excellent floor game.

John Dickey and Jerry DeGroot each had 18 points for Premontre while Craig Johansen followed with 16.

It was a see-saw struggle throughout with a margin of no more than five points separating the two teams through the first half. Premontre started quickly in the third period and had a 9-point lead at 45-36 before the Chuters rallied and tied it at 46-46 with 4:07 remaining in the period.

Long Range Shots

Premontre stayed in front mainly through Dickey's long range hitting and the Cadets boosted the margin to 65-58 with about 4 minutes left in the game. The Chuters then caught fire again and consecutive baskets by Romenesko, Jerry Janssen and Lloyd Hackel made it 65-64. Johansen then bagged four straight from the free throw line and added a clinching field goal in the closing second to ice the win for the Cadets. The best the Chuters could do in the last 3 minutes 13 second was a pair of free throws and a layup by Schuler.

Miami Signs Rick Norton For $300,000

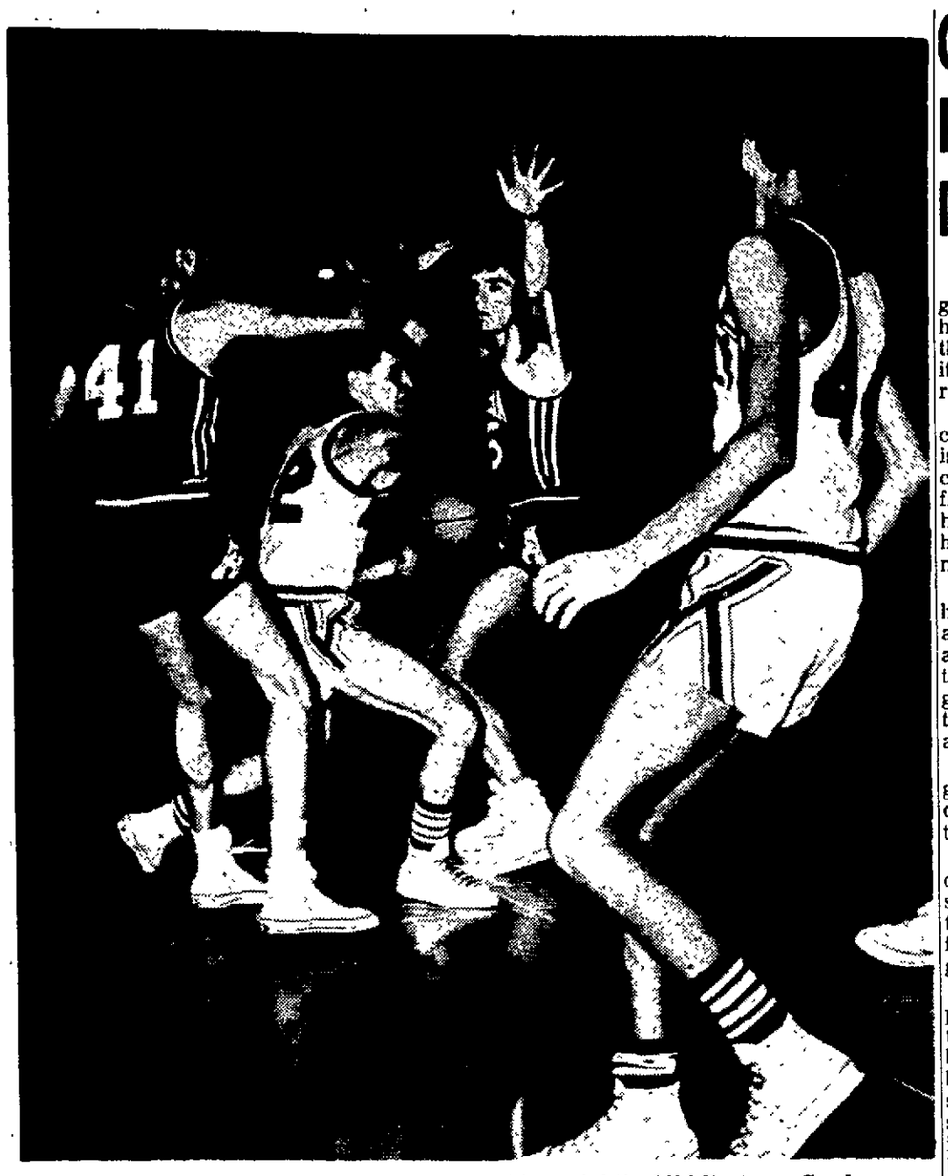

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Rick Norton, Kentucky's strong-armed quarterback, reportedly has become the second richest rookie in professional football.

The Miami Dolphins of the American Football League announced Friday they had signed Norton, their No. 1 draft choice, to direct their first team to be fielded next year.

Neither Norton nor Dolphin President Joe Robbie would discuss the price tag, but both Miami papers said it was $300,000 over four years.

Only Joe Namath, Alabama quarterback who signed with the New York Jets for $400,000, got more.

game," said Shula. "All the hard work of the season and all the sweat is at stake. If we win it's all worthwhile. Our guys realize how important it is.

"I have confidence that Gary can do the job. We threw him into the toughest situation you can imagine in Chicago in our first game with the Bears and he helped us win. The next week he had a fine day against Minnesota.

"Last week when Unitas got hurt, we weren't doing a thing against the Bears. We didn't do a thing after Gary came in either. We just didn't play our game. We gave up the ball six times, four times on fumbles and twice on interceptions."

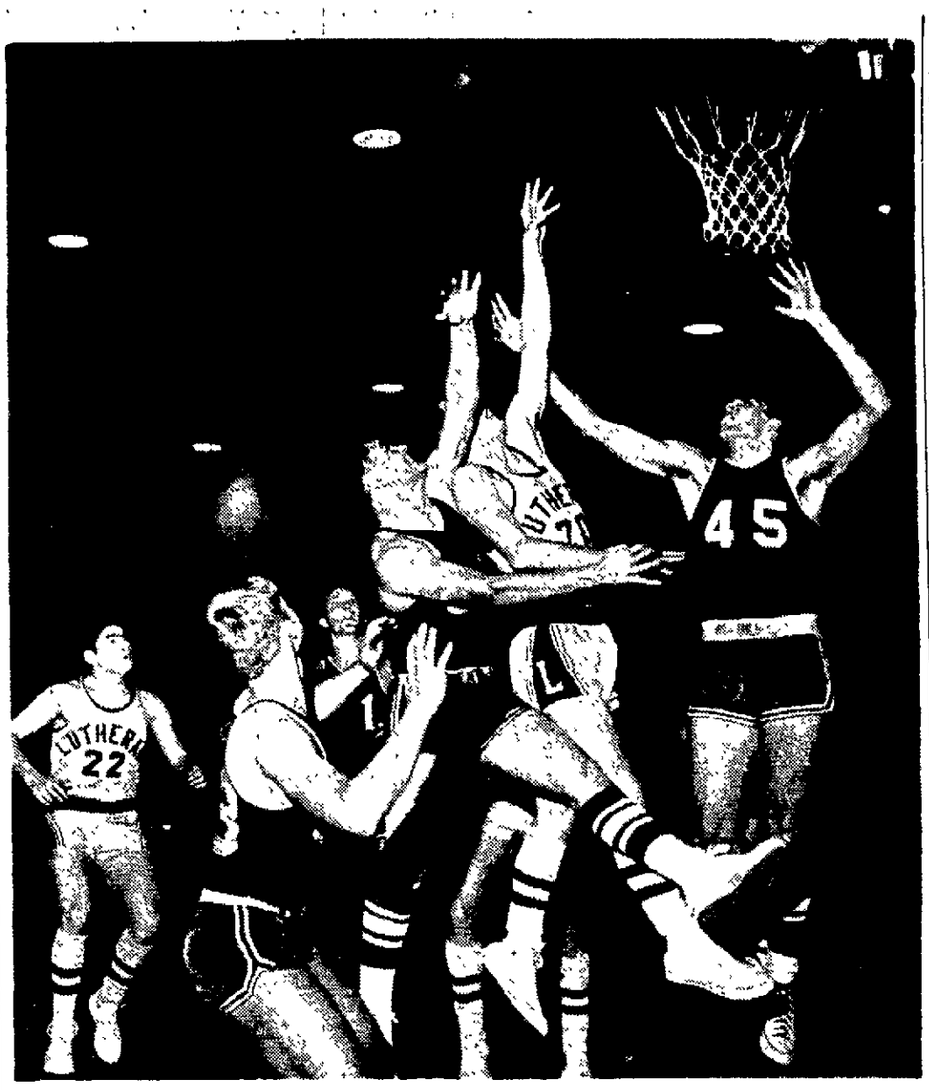

Shula realizes he is asking a great deal of his second-string quarterback, but he rationalizes the situation.

"Anytime you take Unitas out of the attack you are hurt," he said. "But you have to forget that. What can you do? We are fortunate as the devil to have a guy as capable as Cuozzo.

"Everybody talks about the pressure. I don't think there is that much on a quarterback. He has too many things to do. He has to worry about the game situation, select the plays and study the defenses. Gary is an intelligent boy. He hasn't had a lot of experience, but he has picked up tremendously."

While the Colts and Packers are banging heads the Cleveland Browns — already set for the Jan. 2 league championship game as Eastern titleholders — play the Rams at Los Angeles.

Elsewhere, the NFL schedule has San Francisco at Chicago, Minnesota at Detroit, New York at Washington, and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh. The St. Louis Cardinals and Dallas Cowboys play today at Dallas.

Although FVL only shot 32 per cent (as compared to 39 per cent for the Wildcate), the advantage of having the ball more times gave them more chances to shoot. The Foxes got off 82 shots, making 26 of them while University School took 56 shots and made 22 of them.

In the final 8:39 of the game FVL hit on 10 of 20 shots and 10 of 16 free throws in out-scoring University School, 30-12.

Mark Dahlke led the FVL attack with 22 points on eight field goals and six free throws. Tom Ehlke was second with 15 points, while Dennis Neuman dropped in 10 points.

NEW LONDON — Coach Bill Beyer's cage team evened its' Mid-Eastern Conference record by downing Shawano, 51-41, here Friday.

The Bulldogs have displayed a stingy defense in all but one game in posting a 3-1 mark. The defeat was Shawano's second in the M-E.

A cold night at the free throw lane kept the Bulldogs from pulling out in front for good earlier in the game. Reserve guard Jim Bassewitz canned the first free throws for New London with 32 seconds left in the first half. The charity throws gave the Bulldogs a 24-19 half-time lead.

Big Henry Linke, used his 220 pounds to good advantage, as he swept 14 rebounds from the boards. Linke's play in the fourth quarter sparked the New London comeback, even though he did not score.

New London trailed, 35-36, with 5:21 left to play. Then Linke and his teammates stormed back into the lead by scoring 11 straight points and posting an insurmountable lead.

Bob Rieckmann, a 6-1 forward, tossed in eight of the points during the hot streak. Linke played inspired ball nabbing defensive rebounds, blocking shots and making recoveries on all parts of the floor.

New London raced to a 12-2 lead with about 2 minutes left in the opening stanza, but Coach Rudy Ellis' Indians closed the gap to 14-6 at the first buzzer.

New London dropped back to a narrow 16-14 lead early in the second stanza before coming back to hold a 24-19 edge at the intermission.

Beyer's team set to work at the outset of the second half by building a 10-point spread, 32-22, with just over five minutes left in the third frame. Shawano knotted the score for the first time in the game from the free throw line on three fouls on the Bulldogs in less than five seconds of play.

Rieckmann gave the hosts a 33-32 lead going into the final canto by dumping in a charity toss.

Fond du Lac '5' Hands Oshkosh 65-49 Surprise

Lincoln Tips North In Collision of Milwaukee Powers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee Lincoln, possibly Wisconsin's most explosive prep basketball team this winter, outran Milwaukee North 98-90 Friday night for its fifth victory while action involving three other major powers was all but trickling to a halt.

Stevens Point (4 - 1) suffered its first defeat 41-38 in an upset at the hands of Antigo whose Dick Hilger contributed the decisive four points in the last 40 seconds after Antigo had stalled much of the game.

Lincoln (5 - 0), state champs three times in the last seven seasons, found its attack blunted by a full-court press in the final quarter after leading 83 - 68 after three periods, but still hung on to hand Milwaukee North (4-2) its second consecutive defeat despite Alfonso Ford's 34 points.

Barely Wins

Madison East (6 - 0) barely shaved Beloit 53-52 while Racine Horlick (4 - 1), beaten only by Lincoln, kept pace inside the Big Eight by blasting Madison La Follette 77-42.

The Fox River Valley Conference began sorting itself out, dropping from a five-way tie to a deadlock between Green Bay West and Sheboygan South (both 3-0) for first.

Each took care of one previously unbeaten member as South led all the way in downing defending champion Appleton 75-65 while West, the preseason pick, was mauling Mnitowoc 73- 40. Previously winless Fond du Lac surprised the fifth team originally at the top, Oshkosh 65 -49.

Most unbeatens around the state behaved as if immune to defeat. Superior Cathedral (5 - 0) whipped strong Wakefield, Mich., 49-42 and River Falls (4-0), a race horse team, humbled Hudson 90-65 with two players hitting 25 or more each.

Elsewhere around the state, New Holstein (6-0) chilled Chilton 106-60, Monona Grove (5-0) stormed Fort Atkinson 69 - 46, and Milwaukee Pius (5 - 0), a power of parochial circles, edged Milwaukee Don Bosco 53 -51.

The defending state champions split their games. Public titlist Monroe (3-2) nipped Stoughton 60-59. Catholic crown-holder Milwaukee Marquette (2-2) lost to Racine St. Catherine 52-47.

bonus situation.

Koepke added two more free throws at the seven-second mark to ice the verdict. He was responsible for his team's last eight points.

Clintonville had held a 20-19 lead at the close of the first period as Korb and Pasch each scored eight points and Pete Neubauer had the same amount for the Rockets.

The visitors added another 20 spot in the second frame. It was matched by their hosts for a 40-39 halftime score.

Neubauer, getting all of his points in the first three periods, and Koepke, aided by a 10-point last period, shared Neenah scoring honors with 18 markers. Larry Handler hit 14 and Gary Losse added 13.

Pasch Scores 26

Clintonville and game honors went to Pasch with 26 on nine baskets and eight free throws in nine attempts. He was limited to one goal in the final stanza.

Korb posted 20 points, Don Kirchner 13 and Dieck 11.

Menasha lead to 26-24. With 50 seconds remaining Tom Weyenberg meshed a free throw for Kimberly to tie the game and then both teams spurted, scoring 11 points between them as Menasha left the floor with a 34-30 advantage.

Menasha led throughout most of the third period, but seldom by more than two or three points as the teams exchanged baskets. John Reider tied the game for Kimberly with 2:41 left in the frame and Van Gompel put them ahead with a layup before Vanderhyden countered with a bucket to enable the Jays to lead 47-46 at the three-quarter mark.

The score changed hands 10 times within two minutes in the fourth period as Kimberly moved in front, 50-49 ,and the teams exchanged baskets until the score stood at 59-58 Menasha with 3:50 left. Here Kimberly hit its cold streak and the winners ran to a 67-58 lead due mainly to strong play under the boards by Steffin. Van Gompel hit two free throws to break the Papermaker scoring drought with 1:08 left, but the lead had been built and with Menasha effectively stalling until sure of a good shot the Papermakers were out of luck. Van Gompel scored as the horn sounded for the losers.

Steffin fouled out with 19 seconds remaining, but despite sitting out a portion of the third quarter with four fouls, he did his job for the night both on strong rebounding and leading the scoring with 24 points. Reider hit 21 points and Van Gompel had 19 for the losers.

Steffin hit on 10 of 20 shot from the floor, Wayne Dombrowski hit five of six, Dennis Jensen had five of 10, Vanderhyden hit on seven of 15 and Nelson scored on two of four tries. Six players saw action for Menasha with Knoll coming in to replace Steffins.

Six players also saw action for Kimberly with Van Gompel hitting on eight of 19, Reider eight of 27, Gary Van Cuyk hit on four of nine, Ken Fries made good on one of three, Gary Gossens hit on two of nine and Tom Weyenberg connected on two of five shots.

'Sugar' Ray Steals Show

Griffith Retains Ring Title

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson stole the show from welterweight champion Emile Griffith without throwing a single punch.

Griffith retained his title with a lopsided 15-round decision over Manuel Gonzalez, a hitless wonder from Odessa, Tex., in a boring bout and immediately declared he wanted a shot at middleweight king Dick Tiger's crown.

Long before the unanimous verdict was announced, many of the 12,146 fans who paid $72,502 strolled out of Madison Square Garden Friday night to the tune of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," as sung by the gallervites in the $3 seats.

They also sang—"Deep in the Heart of Texas" and yelled for Manny to go home.

But the farewell tribute to Sugar Ray, the 45-year-old former welterweight and five-time middleweight champion, was a rousing and heart-warming success. It was show biz and saved the program.

The Garden brought in four of Robinson's middleweight title opponents, England's Randy Turpin, Gene Fullmer, Bobo Olson and Carmen Basilio, for the occasion. Sugar Ray and the four other ex-champions all stepped into the ring with robes over their ring togs.

Robinson remained in mid-ring as the others went to the four corners. The crowd applauded them all and then lifted the rafters when Sugar Ray said his farewell.

"To stand here in the middle of the ring for the last time is not goodbye but farewell to a career.

Then, first in French, and then in English, he said:

"I'll see you later."

It's a cinch the Garden fans won't be seeing Gonzalez later.

The onetime cotton picker had his big chance and blew it.

He kept on his bicycle and rarely punched as the angered champion chased him all over the ring, occasionally catching him with left hooks to the body, and left jabs and rights to the head.

4-Way Tie for Second

Winneconne Quint Tips Freedom, 72-61, Takes Sole Little Nine Lead

ILTTLE NINE CONFERENCE	W	L
Winneconne	3	0
Brillion	2	1
Freedom	2	1
Omro	2	1
Reedsville	2	1
Denmark	1	2
Hilbert	1	2
Hortonville	1	2
Wrightstown	1	2
Shiocton	0	3

A 23-9 Winneconne scoring advanrage in the third period enabled the Wolves to break open a close game and surge to the head of the Little Nine Conference pack as they dumped previously unbealen Freedom, 72-61. Friday night.

In other league action, Brillion, Omro, Reedsville and Wrightstown emerged victorious.

Despite a 19-point spurt by Winneconne's Tom Nickel in the first half, the Wolves could manage only a 33-31 edge at halftime, as Pat Carney kept the Irish in close pursuit by canning 12 markers prior to the intermission.

Freedom outscored the winners by a 5-point margin in the closing stanza, but couldn't bulge in the third segment.

Nickel's 28 points paced the winners, while Carney's 27 tallies toped the Irish.

Scores 28 Points

John Haun, with 28 points and a flock of rebounds spelled the difference in Brillion's 61-57 conquest of Denmark, as the Lions moved into a 4-way tie for second place.

Brillion broke open a 44-all deadlock in the closing stanza to pull out the victory.

Gary Roberts paced the Vikings' scoring attack with 21 markers.

Omro's Jeff Stang continued his hot scoring streak with 35 points as the Foxes routed Hortonville, 90-65.

The Polar Bears, plagued by early foul troubles and Omro's annoying press tactics, fell far behind, 29-14, by the first-quarter mark, leaving the outcome in little doubt thereafter.

Jerry Williams with 20 points was Hortonville's leading scorer.

Hilbert's Wolves set some sort of dubious record as they meshed only one bucket in 41 tries in the second half, making the chore an easy one for Reedsville's Panthers who came out on the long end of a 63-41 count.

The losers coined only three freethrows in the third period and added seven more in the final stanza, in addition to their lone bucket, as Reedsville pulled away from a previously close, 30-29, halftime advantage.

Ron Nohr sparked the Panthers with 28 points, while Jim Diener's 21 tallies accounted for over half of the losers' game total. Wrightstown notched its initial win of the league campaign with a 55-43 win over Shiocton.

The Tigers stormed from a 21-all halftime tie en rout to their first decision in three conference outings.

The winners, outscored from the field, made the free-throw route pay of as they meshed 19 charity tosses, while the Chiefs could muster but five.

Neil Zastrow, with 24 points, paced Wrightstown, while Gary Johnson meshed 14 for Shiocton.

Bruhn Retained By UW Regents

board was conclusive because Maloche had informed him later that he favored retaining Bruhn.

Despite the urging of the university's two top officials, three regents did vote to oust Bruhn. One of them, Kenneth Greenquist of Racine, said "I felt the public had lost complete confidence in his ability as a coach."

But Dr. James W. Nellen, a regent who is also team physician for the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, said the board "felt a moral obligation to a man who has a record equal or better than other coaches in the Big Ten."

Bruhn's Wisconsin teams have won 49 games, lost 39 and tied four. They have won two Big Ten crowns but have disappointed Badger boosters by losing in both Rose Bowl appearances.

Bruhn, about 40 pounds over the weight he carried when he played guard for the unbeaten Minnesota teams of 1934-35, relaxed in an easy chair Friday night after hearing the news.

The middle button of his dark sports coat threatened to pop as he talked. "I am very grateful," he said. "I feel I know the squad best and can get the most out of our freshmen and varsity players next season."

He called the seven days leading up to the regents meeting "the toughest week of my life."

Takes Big Early Lead

Two Rivers '5' Scores 77-67 Win Over Ghosts

TWO RIVERS — Leading, 24-9, at the first quarter mark, the Two Rivers Raiders held on to defeat Kaukauna, 77-67, here Friday night in a Mid-Eastern Conference game.

E. J. Strew, who copped game scoring honors with 21 points, poured in eight markers in the first period to spark the Raiders to their 16-point first period lead.

The Galloping Ghosts outscored their opponents 19-17 in the second quarter, but the winners again held a 16-point bulge at the end of three quarters. Kaukauna rallied for 21 tallies in the final period, but the Raider lead proved too great to overcome.

Two Rivers managed to sink 43 per cent of its shots from the field while Kaukauna could find the range on only 26 per cent.

Paul Koprowski was the Raiders' other top scorer, dumping in 20 points.

Quinn VandenHeuvel paced the balanced Kaukauna attack, hitting 2 fielders and 10 free throws for 14 points. Bob Main, Gary Reimer and Pat Kavanaugh added 13, 12 and 1 points respectively.

The win, Two Rivers' first in conference play, leaves the Raiders with a 3-1 season mark. Kaukauna, still looking for its initial Mid-Eastern triumph, is 1-3 on the season.

Birthrate in Chile Booms

Drive Launched to Limit Babies and Reduce Abortions

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile, with one of the highest birthrates in the world, is launching an official drive to limit births and reduce criminal abortions.

The National Health Service, a government agency, will run an educational campaign. Married or single women may choose the methods best suited to their economic standing and religious feeling. Contraceptive pills and intrauterine devices will be among methods promoted.

Chile's population is growing 2.8 per cent a year, and its 8 million people are expected to double in 20 years if this rate is maintained. Officials reckon there are 100,000 illegal abortions a year and 280,000 births.

The country is largely Roman Catholic. Dr. Francisco Mardones Restat, health service administrator, says the church was not consulted on the government plan.

"Only the common good has inspired the government's policy," he said.

Santa Says Gemini Getting in His Way

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Normally businesslike toilers in the Gemini Control Center were — in the words of their spokesman — nonplussed Friday night when Santa Claus walked in, visitors' badge and all.

"He complained about our spacecraft up there and said he has almost hit them a couple of times," said Al Chop, the night-time voice of Gemini control.

Chop later confessed that the visitor actually was Capt. E.M. Vallerie, an Air Force officer assigned to space research, off duty at the time.

Broken Glass Note Quite So Costly in D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials report that window breakage has been cut in half at nine Washington schools landscaped through Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's beautification program.

Walter Washington, executive director of the National Capital Housing Authority and a member of Mrs. Johnson's beautification committee, said Friday that as a result 52 more district schools want to get in on the program.

"We are finding," Washington said, "that the whole beautification program has a dimension far beyond planting." He said that school children who have helped to landscape their schools care more about taking care of them.

Window breakage last year cost $119,320 in the District of Columbia schools.

Divorced Men Form Society

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Incorporation papers have been filed with the Bernalillo County clerk's office for an organization known as the Divorced Man's Protective Association.

In the charter, the group said its intention was to influence passage of legislation to modernize divorce, legalize separation and annulment laws governing child support and custody to make them equitable for both men and women.

Don't Need Genius for Top Defense

West needed only the ability to reason logically.

West opened the jack of hearts, and declarer won in dummy with the ace, discarding a club from his hand. He then returned a club from dummy, losing the queen to the king.

West returned a heart, and South ruffed. Declarer cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club in dummy, ruffed himself in with a heart and led out the ace of trumps and a low trump.

West had to play the king of trumps, and South had no further problems.

Should Pick Return

West could tell from the bidding that South held only a singleton spade. Since South had no hearts, he surely had seven diamonds and five clubs. In short, West knew the entire hand when he won the second trick with the king of clubs. He should have picked the killing return.

West defeats the contract by returning the king of diamonds. This prevents South from ruffing a club in dummy but does not cost the defense their trump trick since East gets a trick with the ten of diamonds. South must lose two clubs and a trump.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S A K 9 7 4 2 H A 6 5 4 D J C 5 2. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade. This is a perfectly normal opening bid, and it would be foolish to open with a shutout bid of any kind.

2 Types of Hardening Of Arteries Explained

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does hardening of the arteries in one part of the body mean that the same thing is taking place in other areas? Or can this be a spotty thing? Does the process ever reverse itself? — H.M.D.

There are two kinds of hardening of the arteries. One involves the middle of the three layers which make up an artery. The fibrous tissue accumulates calcium deposits and such arteries become "hard." They become quite rigid and can be felt in such spots as a wrist. X-rays depict them clearly because of the calcium.

Yet these arteries, while hard, usually retain a quite adequate space inside, and circulation remains adequate. This type of hardening is called arteriosclerosis.

The other type of hardening, called atherosclerosis, is the red herring. The arteries don't become rigid. Calcium does not gather. Without the calcium, an X-ray does not show a clear picture unless some added procedure is used, such as injecting a dye into the artery so it will show up on an X-ray film.

Instead, the problem here is not actual hardening, but rather the presence of plaques or clumps of fatty material at one or more points in the artery, just as rust or sludge may form into a deposit inside a water pipe.

If this clump or plaque becomes large enough, then it can cut off circulation somewhere, or reduce the flow of blood and cause trouble.

If circulation is completely shut of, that creates a problem. If it is in some part of the arteries which serve the heart muscle, the result is a heart attack. If in the brain, it is a stroke. It can occur elsewhere, of course. In the foot, the result will be Gangrene. In the kidney, high blood pressure or other difficulty will ensue.

The calcium-type of real hardening tends to be rather general in the body, not that some arteries won't be harder than others.

The atherosclerosis, or fatty plaques, may occur more especially in one part of the body, or may occur in several areas, although real trouble may develop in one place and not in others.

If a blockage occurs, the patient may very well recover, perhaps developing some collateral circulation (enlargement of other vessels in the same area, to make up for the circulation which has been lost) and thenceforth have adequate circulation for years to come.

Difficulty from hardening of the arteries in one spot does not necessarily mean that you are going to have the same trouble elsewhere.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is shingles, how does it start? What are the symptoms, treatment? — Mrs. M. C.

UW Architecture Course Approved

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The University of Wisconsin board of regents approved the establishment of a professional course in architecture today, the first ever offered at a Wisconsin college or university.

The new professional program will be lodged in the general environmental design program of the university, but on what campus it will be offered was not immediately determined.

The regents approved including a provision for funding the architecture course in the 1967-69 budget.

The Madison campus has previously offered graduate work in a number of fields basic to architecture, including landscape architecture, but it has never had an entire professional program.

Proposals for Federal Support Asked From State Schools, Labs

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin degree-granting private and public colleges and universities and non-profit research laboratories have been invited to submit proposals for federal support under the new State Technical Services Act.

Plans for gathering the proposals were announced by Gov. Warren P. Knowles Friday. He has called the act "an opportunity to contribute to the development and improvement of the economy of the state."

The invitations were sent out by the office of University of Wisconsin President Fred Harvey Harrington. The university will consolidate the proposals for submission to the U.S. Secretary of Commerce by Jan. 15. The university has fixed a Jan. 5 deadline for receipts of proposals.

Rare Coin Thief Begins State Prison Sentence

Iola Publishing Firm Employe Gets Term Of No Less Than 5 Years for $10,000 Crime

WAUPACA — Jack W. Nannery, 39, Iola, was sentenced Friday to not less than five years at the Waupun State Prison for the $13,800 Iola coin theft, when he was arraigned for sentencing before County Judge, Wendell McHenry.

Nannery, charged with the theft of more than 5,500 silver dollars and several rare coins from Krause Publications, Iola, Oct. 14, was arrested Oct. 29 and pleaded guilty to the charge Nov. 17. Since that time a presentence investigation ordered by Judge McHenry was conducted. From the time of his arrest, Nannery has been held in the county jail in lieu of a $15,000 bond. He was taken to Waupun, Friday afternoon to start his sentence.

On the night of the theft, Nannery who was employed by the publishing firm as an associate editor, used his keys to enter the office building and remove the silver dollars and coins from safes and took the money to the garage of his home. He then returned to the office with an electric drill and screw driver to drill out the safe locks and force a rear door to give a false impression that a burglary had occurred.

Canvas Bags

Later he took the bulk of the silver dollars which were in canvas bags and hid them under old railroad ties near the western edge of the village. Harry Finch, a local restaurant owner discovered the hidden bags of money Oct. 20.

From the time of the discovery until Nannery was arrested the cask of money was staked out by the Waupaca county Sheriff's Department.

During the investigation which was led by Undersheriff William Mork, it was learned that Nannery had given false information on the job application he had submitted to Krause Publications. He had not been a former New York City police lieutenant but had worked as a night watchman. It was also revealed that he has served a prison sentence for armed robbery and was paroled in 1947.

Despite his past record, Nannery was well known in coin circles and had been an officer of a Brooklyn, N. Y. coin club and served as security officer at several New York coin shows. According to officials of the Iola Publishing firm, Nannery was also an authority on military currency.

While Nannery was being questioned about the theft, he maintained he had disposed of more than $3,500 worth of the rare coins at the Iola dump where about 75 silver dollars and a few pennies were found.

Received Three Pennies

While the investigation was in progress the sheriff's department received three pennies from a man in New York who said Nannery had sent them to him for sale. They were part of the loot and valued at $850. The rare coins taken in the theft were from the collection of Chester Krause, owner of the publishing firm.

When Nannery took the stand Friday to make a statement before being sentenced, he said the $3,500-worth of unaccounted coins are in the Iola dump.

Police Network Proposal Asks Switch From Low to High Band

A one-day Outagamie County Board meeting is expected for December, with supervisors considering matters from the airport, public property and insurance, courts justice and enforcement committees.

The November board session lasted four days.

The public property and insurance committee will submit a resolution asking the board to give final approval to a new county employes insurance plan which has won recommendation by the employe groups.

The health, hospitalization and major medical package being submitted for board action would make the North American Insurance Co. the new carrier for the county. The plan, if adopted, would go into effect Jan. 1, according to insurance committee members.

Members of the courts, justice and enforcement committee will seek board approval to study a cost plan for a new police radio program for the county traffic and sheriff's departments.

Radio Tower

The new system, which would provide for relocation of the radio tower to a more central spot in the county, and new consoles and a new transmitter, has been the subject of study for the past several weeks by members of the committee.

The present system is 15 years old, and county authorities contend that better service, clearer signals and less crowded air waves could be had by switching from the present low band to a high band system.

Cost estimates will be studied if the board approves such a move Tuesday.

Airport committee personnel will ask board approval of new space rental and landing fee contracts with North Central Airlines and Air Wisconsin.

Another proposal to be submitted by the airport committee provides for airport manager and fixed base operators contracts which reportedly include revisions from the present set-up.

Professor at Valley Center Gets Grant

Dr. Elmer A. Havens, associate chairman of the Fox Valley University Center English department, has been awarded a summer research grant by the University of Wisconsin Research Committee.

Havens will use the award to study the works of four contemporary satiric writers, Roger Longrigg, Andrew Sinclair, Hugh Thomas and Honor Tracy.

The writers Havens will study are similar to the "Angry Young Men" movement in contemporary British letters.

He will concentrate on analyzing individual works of the four authors and attempt to discover if they share a common tone. His research will be done here and in Madison.

Havens received his bachelor's degree from Cornell College, Iowa, in 1951, and a bachelor of divinity degree from Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N.J., in 1954. He received his doctorate in English this year from the University of Wisconsin.

Ashland Airport Involved

State Aeronautics Board Objects To Cut in North Central Service

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — If North Central Airlines is forced to continue DC-3 service to Ashland, it will cost air travelers in Green Bay, Manitowoc and Rhinelander the use of 40 airplane seats a day, the state Aeronautics Commission was told Friday by company spokesmen.

The airline has petitioned the federal Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to discontinue one round trip a day into the Ashland airport made with DC-3 airliners. The Ashlaod terminal has only two round trips daily at present.

Commission Director T. K. Jordan, acting on previous commission policy positions, filed an objection with the CAB. The commission Friday supported the objection.

Convairs Planned

The airline told the state commission that it plans to fly over Ashland on one of its two daily trips, using new, larger Convair-made aircraft that cannot land at the Ashland airport due to a lack of runway space. The other daily flight would use DC-3 airplanes.

The confrontation over the North Central plans came with a request to the CAB for federal funds for a runway-lengthening project at Ashland.

The Ashland project is not included in the state airport plan for air terminal construction and improvements.

The CAB has ordered that North Central service at the Ashland airport be ended. The airport now is one stop on a flight originating at Duluth and passing through Ashland, Rhinelander, Manitowoc, Green Bay and Milwaukee, terminating in Chicago.

Ashland Protests

The Convair service would make all stops but Ashland.

Ashland has protested, and is appealing the federal decision in the U.S. District Court of Appeals in Chicago. The court's ruling is expected in January.

"We strongly object to commission attempts to force us to use equipment that we intend to phase out of our system," said North Central staff attorney Norman Herro, referring to the DC-3 airplanes.

The airline plans to stop using those aircraft by the end of 1967.

R. B. Harrison, president of the Ashland Union National Bank, told the commission that the loss of two existing flights would actually mean the loss to the community of the airline service, no matter what the federal court's decision.

Use it or Lose It

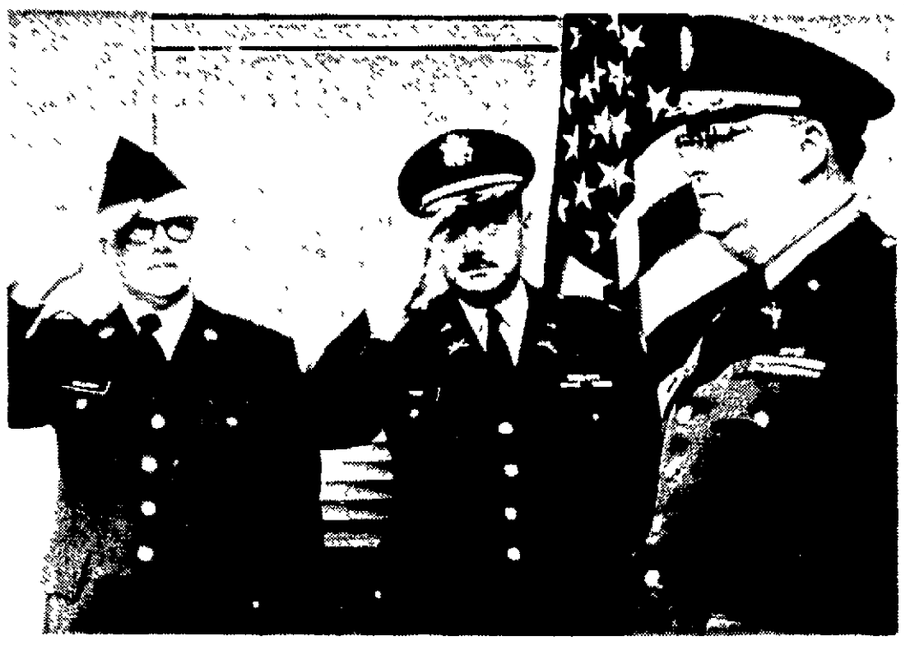

Unless the two trips are maintained, he said, the daily passenger totals would fall below the CAB-set five per day needed under a "use it or lose it" policy. Use of the Ashland airport over the past year averaged 5.16 passengers arriving or leaving a day.

Herro told the commission that during August North Central was forced to leave 294 passengers bound for Rhinelander in Chicago and Milwaukee because of the limited space available on the DC-3 aircraft.

The commission originally voted, in a 2-2 tie, to refuse to endorse the Ashland request of the federal authorities for airport aid. A mail ballot from absent commission member Ted Cole, of Cashton, was rejected, however. Vice chairman Donald Love, of Green Bay, opposed the plan, while members Harry Chaplin, Plymouth, and Willard Pire, Eau Claire, voted to back the local airport. Commission chairman Gordon Leonard of Milwaukee was also absent.

The final vote was 3-0 to endorse Jordan's objection.

Cuba Offers Coffee Growers Higher Prices

Beverage Sells for Up to $15 a Pound On Black Market

By RICHARD DAW

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's Communist regime is offering coffee growers a little capitalistic incentive — higher prices — hope of increasing production.

The first aim is to get production up to at least that of pre-Communist days so that Cubans once again can get their fill of their favorite beverage, now rationed.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government also hopes to get Cuba firmly back into coffee exports to bring in foreign exchange.

Castro's long-range goal is to be producing 200 million pounds of coffee a year by 1970, almost twice the island's record 1956 production of 116 8 million pounds. The current crop is expected to be about 60 million pounds.

Small Farms

Most sugar land is in the hands of the government, but more than 80 per cent of Cuba's coffee is grown on privately owned small farms.

Castro called on farmers to show their patriotism by producing more coffee — and then announced price hikes of 20 per cent.

The increase brings a hundredweight of washed coffee to 60 pesos, with corresponding raises in prices for other types. Part of the increase is to go to the land owners and part to the pickers.

Under rationing, Cubans now get 1½ ounces of coffee a week legally, at 95 centavos a pound. Black market prices range from 8 to 15 pesos, depending on availability. The Cuban peso officially is on a par with the United States dollar and the centavo with the U.S. cent but their purchasing power is generally much less.

Bids Awarded

Three School Buses Purchased at Neenah

NEENAH — Three 72-passenger school buses costing $22,744 and library equipment for $9,820 were approved at a special meeting of the school board Friday afternoon.

Awarding of bids followed the board's approval of the $3,638,748 joint school district budget for 1966. The board action was a procedural matter after the towns in the district and the city council approved budgets at a special session Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Barbara Gulbrand was hired for first grade at Spring Road School to replace Mrs. Kay Reese who resigned effective Dec. 17.

The $22,744 bus bid was the low among nine bids submitted by three companies for additions to the school fleet. An International chasis with a V-8 engine and Superior body was a low bid by Bauer Truck and Equipment, Appleton. Each firm submitted three bids using each of the body styles on their particular chasis. High bid was $24,200.

No trade in was taken on the buses, James Clark, business manager said. The new models will replace several units now 10 years old and unusable for the daily 199-mile school bus route. Trade-in on the old models was so small, Clark said, that the board decide to keep the old buses and use them to service the new James B. Conant Junior High School being constructed on the Swatscheno farm site.

The buses will be used to transport children living east of U.S. 41 across the busy freeway. No youngster will have to walk or ride a bicycle across the highway or cross at the Cecil Street intersection.

Also awarded were contracts for library equipment for the new Conant Library. Three bids were received. Successful bidders for all equipment, chairs, tables, book racks, periodical stands and librarian equipment was Valley School Supply of Appleton with Buckstaff Equipment of Oshkosh. Bid was $9,280.

Other bids received were from Wisconsin School Service, Milwaukee, $10,040, and Bro Dart, Newark, N. J., $12,325

Kimberly-Clark Initiates Changes in Paper Machines

NEENAH — Two paper forming developments on Kimberly-Clark Corp. paper machines that may have an important impact on how paper is made for household tissue products and magazines are described in the current issue of Cooperation, the company magazine.

An article which salutes the company's basic breadwinners—its 93 paper machines—says one of the processes involved formation of a wet sheet of paper as a sandwich between two Fourdrinier wires. The other development, claimed to be more radical in paper forming, is expected to push machine speeds and production in creped wadding manufacturing to higher levels than ever before.

Kimberly-Clark has built 17 of its 93 machines in the last 10 years and has 10 others in planning or construction stages It also has a continuing program of up-dating older machines.

Kimberly-Clark's Fox Cities plants have 15 machines, five at Kimberly for the maufacture of printing and publication papers, seven at Neenah mill for production of creded wadding, and three at Neenah Paper Mill for manufacture of business papers and specialties

Traditional and space-age contributions of Kimberly-Clark Corp products also are pictured in the magazine.

Some of the many ways paper heightens the Christmas holiday season include decorative products like the new holiday tissues, imprinted with sprays of green and red pine boughs.

Tons of Kimberly-Clark printing papers, some made at the Kimberly mill, provided the frame for items in Christmas catalogs, booklets, magazine and newspaper advertisements.

Christmas trees are making homes decorative for the holidays. While Kimberly-Clark is not in the Christmas tree business, its woodlands divisions in four states does harvest some Chritmas trees off K-C land.

Cooperation also features pictorially some of the "for-the-future" disposable dresses produced by Chicago designers at an annual all-Chicago designers fashion show and luncheon Each designer received a bolt of Kaycel disposal non-woven fabric made at K-C's Atlas Mill. Evening frocks, ball gowns, a wedding dress and a futuristic gown are pictured.

Mothers Take Stop Sign's Place

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A group of mothers took matters in their own hands Thursday afternoon in protecting their children who had to cross a freeway access with no traffic control to get home from school.

The mothers, most of them from the Milwaukee Lapham Park Housing Development, stretched a rope made visible with red decorations across the street and raised it intermittently to allow children to cross. They lowered the rope to allow traffic to move.

The mothers had asked for traffic officers or a stop sign at the crossing, contending that the traffic flow reached about 4,000 cars during the periods when youngsters were crossing.

The rope remained in use only briefly. Police officers soon arrived, took it away, and directed traffic manually.

Bergstrom Christmas Tree

Neenah Spruce Attains Height of 25-Year Life

NEENAH — A pine tree seedling set in the front yard of the Alfred Lange home, 607 Doty Ave, has been groomed and pampered for 25 years until it has reached the ultimate goal of any perfectly formed spruce.

Today it stands on a five-foot pedestal adorned in Christmas finery at Bergstrom Paper Co

The availability of the tree was made known to Bergstrom officials by the owner and company employes were sent to cut down the spruce and transport it to its new setting.

Flat Bed Truck

Transportation was completed on a flat bed truck and the tree placed on the pedestal by block and tackle with power furnished by a tractor, Henry Bickerstaff, public relations department official, said.

Lange planted the tree in the front yard of his home on the corner of Doty Avenue and Linden Court. The tree was cultivated and trimmed regularly, according to Mrs. Lange, accounting for its semitry.

The decision to remove the tree came after it had reached a height deemed unsafe because of possible wind damage and its location. The tree also was too near flower beds, Mrs. Lange said. She said a spruce will replace the former at a new location.

The tree, in its new setting, has been decorated with oversized ornaments by men working from scaffolding. The tree, with its huge ropes of tinsel, large silver bells and striped canes make an eye catching combination.

Borman Flying In Space With A Common Cold

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—How does a man who has been in space for more than six days catch cold from anything or anybody?

Dr. Charles Berr, flight surgeon for the orbiting Gemini 7 astronauts, was asked that question because Air Force Lt. Col. Frank Borman loosed a few ah-choos.

"The incubation period for a common cold probably varies between 4 and 10 days, depending upon the organism," said Berry. "So it's quite conceivable he could have been exposed, infected and could show the symptoms 4 to 10 days after the exposure."

"I had to suggest on the basis of two sneezes we ought to say that the command pilot is getting a cold," he said.

According to county traffic police, the semi-trailer truck on which the steering wheel broke driven by Lee C. Cook, 35, Estherville, Iowa, was traveling north when the truck went out of control, crossed the center line and struck a southbound truck driven by Ervin R. Fredrick, 53, 1004 S. Center Plans Institute For Biology Teachers

Funds for 10-Session Course Provided By National Science Foundation Grant

An in-service institute for high school biology teachers will be conducted next spring by the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center.

Dr. Leander Schwartz, assistant professor of botany at the Center, will teach the course.

Class sessions will be at Seymour, Menasha, Xavier, Oshkosh and Chilton High Schools, 10 times throughout the spring, with the first class scheduled for Feb. 2.

Science Grant

The course is sponsored by the university's extension division as the result of a National Science Foundation grant which was awarded to Schwartz.

Objectives of the in-service institute are to give participating teachers an up-to-date understanding of modern approaches to their subject matter, to bring about an exchange of information on teaching techniques and laboratory methods and to give teachers an opportunity to increase their teaching skills through use of findings that came from the recent biological sciences curriculum study.

Limited Enrollment

Enrolment in the program is limited to 25. The extension division, in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction, will select the participants, who will receive book and travel allowances.

To be eligible for the institute, applicants should be high school biology teachers, although applications from a limited number of high school general science teachers will also be considered. Preference will be given to those who have not previously participated in the Biological Sciences Curriculum Study.

Requests for application forms must be received by Dec. 23. Forms and additional information may be obtained by contacting Ronald L. Gray, assistant to the dean of the Center.

Vatican Council Finished

Pope Paul Moves From Shadow of John XXIII

BY JAMES M. LONG

VATICAN CITY (AP) — With the end of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, Pope Paul VI comes into his own.

Large as he has loomed at the head of the Roman Catholic Church, he has stood up to now in the broad shadow of his predecessor, John XXIII.

Into the third year of his reign, Pope Paul's greatest dedication has been to fulfill his pledge to successfully conclude the ecumenical council that Pope John convened eight months before his death, June 3, 1963.

Sources close to the pontiff, 68, have predicted that now that this duty has been fulfilled, Pope Paul's own character will emerge. It is expected to be dramatic.

Become Mediator

His actions up to now have given indication that he may and probably will:

— Enter as mediator for peace in war-threatened areas of the world.

— Drive vigorously for eventual Christian unity, even though its achievement is unlikely within his lifetime.

— Make major new pronouncements on birth control.

— Visit Communist Poland and yet stand firm in his denunciation of communism.

Certainly, the informants say, he will continue to travel. He already has made unprecedented trips so far to the Holy Land; Bombay, India, and New York.

John Cardinal Heenan of Britain said as the council was ending that Pope Paul had "refused to put his own imprint on the council which was begun by Pope John. But Paul now has begun to emerge as a pontiff with his own characteristics."

All this will have to be done while Pope Paul fulfills another solemn pledge — that he will put into effect the program for Church renovation approved by the 2,300 prelates in the Ecumenical Council.

He must re-form the centuries-old Curia, the Rome-based administrative body of the Church. He must spread authority out through the synod of bishops which he created.

He also must arbitrate between the Church's conservative and progressive factions.

He also has said he plans to enlarge the Sacred College of Cardinals. He increased it last February to an unprecedented 103. There have been reports he might name as many as 150.

Visit Poland

The Pope is believed eager to visit Communist Poland next year for celebrations of that country's 1,000th anniversary of Christianity.

There also have been reports that he might visit South America, England, the Philippines, and possibly even Africa.

Sources near him have pointed out that Pope Paul has given indication he might go anywhere.

He celebrated Mass with the Gypsies in a caravan-tent encampment south of Rome this summer. Just before the council ended, he attended a joint religious service of Catholic prelates and Protestant observers singing psalms and reading the gospel at the Roman Church of St. Paul outside the walls.

He carried on Pope John's secretariat for Christian unity and went beyond that by creating another secretariat for dialogue with nonbelievers, and another for contacts with non-Christians.

He went into the third year of his pontificate with a record of a speech a day. His dictors say that despite his frail condition, he seemed to be in vigorous, good health.

Official hostess will be Karlett Kuehn, club president. Helping students set up the program is Mrs. Howard Sprenger, club adviser.

An Old Theater Building in Little Chute is being used for a Lutheran Mission Church on an experimental basis with Lutheran pastors from Kimberly and Kaukauna helping to staff the new church. Bible Still Guidebook For Tour of Galilee

WASHINGTON — The hand of change lies lightly on the land where Jesus of Nazareth grew up.

Today, as thousands of years ago, shepherds tend flocks on hills overlooking the Sea of Galilee in present-day Israel. And fishermen cast their nets in the same sea where a young man once addressed their predecessors: "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men."

But there are signs of change, National Geographic reports. In an article entitled "The Land of Galilee," assistant editor Kenneth MacLeish says that Nazareth still has carpenters, quietly pursuing the trade of Jesus's father Joseph though they now use modern band saws. Camel trains still plod past Kafr Kanna, the traditional site of the wedding at Cana, but there is also a modern highway.

Where 5,000 Fed

Galilee lies in the northern part of the modern State of Israel. A chief feature of the country is the Sea of Galilee, actually a 13-mile-long lake. One community there is Capernaum, the community where Jesus came to teach and heal. On the lake's shores, the Bible says, Jesus fed 5,000 people. He delivered the Sermon on the Mount on a nearby hill.

"The Mount of Beatitudes is located by tradition only," Mr. MacLeish cautions. "The Crusaders thought it was the so-called 'horns of Hittim' a few miles to the west, where they themselves were defeated by Saladin on a scorching July day in 1187.

"Others consider it to be the high hill above Tabgha from which all the sea can be seen. It is so enchanted a spot tthat it lends itself to legend. One can well believe that the greatest sermon ever preached was preached there."

Tiberias, the principal city on the Sea of Galilee, is a caldron of cultures in which new Western ways and old oriental ones mix comfortably and colorfully. The Jewish governor of Galilee, Herod Antipas, built the first Tiberias with a sycophant's eye for his patron, the Emperor Tiberius of Rome. The old city lies buried south of modern Tiberias; the new city is thriving.

Shopping Center

"Modern Tiberias is free and alive, its doubled and redoubled population spreading ito suburbs and public housing areas above town," Mr. MacLeish writes. "A new shopping center shines among dim little shops. A handsome hotel stands near dingy houses and black Turkish towers."

Nazareth, the town where Joseph, Mary, and Jesus lived, nestles in an amphitheater of hills. A jumple of pale walls and tortuous ways accented by shrill sounds and startling smells, Nazareth is as poor, alive, and alluring as when it housed the Son of Man. But nothing remains of the buildings of two millennimums ago; instead, some 200 churches and chapels crowd into the hollow where once stood a simple hamlet.

"Modern Nazareth is a curious anomaly in the Jewish state: a town whose population is largely Arab and whose religion is heavily Christian," Mr. MacLeish writes. "The humble commune of Jewish shepherds and artisans became in time a place of Christian shrines. Because the Crusaders were there, Saracens attacked and sacked the town. Once again Nazareth was poor and humble, but this time Moslem. It remained so until the later Turkish reign, when Christians were allowed to establish their sanctuaries. Today their buildings stand austerely in the Oriental quarter, where clerical clothing contracts with Arab robes."

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE ADORATION OF THE SHEPHERDS

"And they came in haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger." St. Luke 2:16.

The great paintings of the western world have moulded our concepts of the faith of the shepherds who saw Jesus. The paintings of Caravaggio, Ghirlaudajo and Murillo show us simple gentlemen who came in humble reverence to worship the Christ Child. In Him they saw the power of their faith, as did the 25 or more great masters who painted the Adoration of the Shepherds.

The Fair Housing Law

As Governor Knowles aptly put it as he wrote his approving signature on the bill passed by the legislature, the enactment of the so-called state fair housing law is a landmark in the history of civil rights in our state, a history which on the whole has been a progressive and a courageous one.

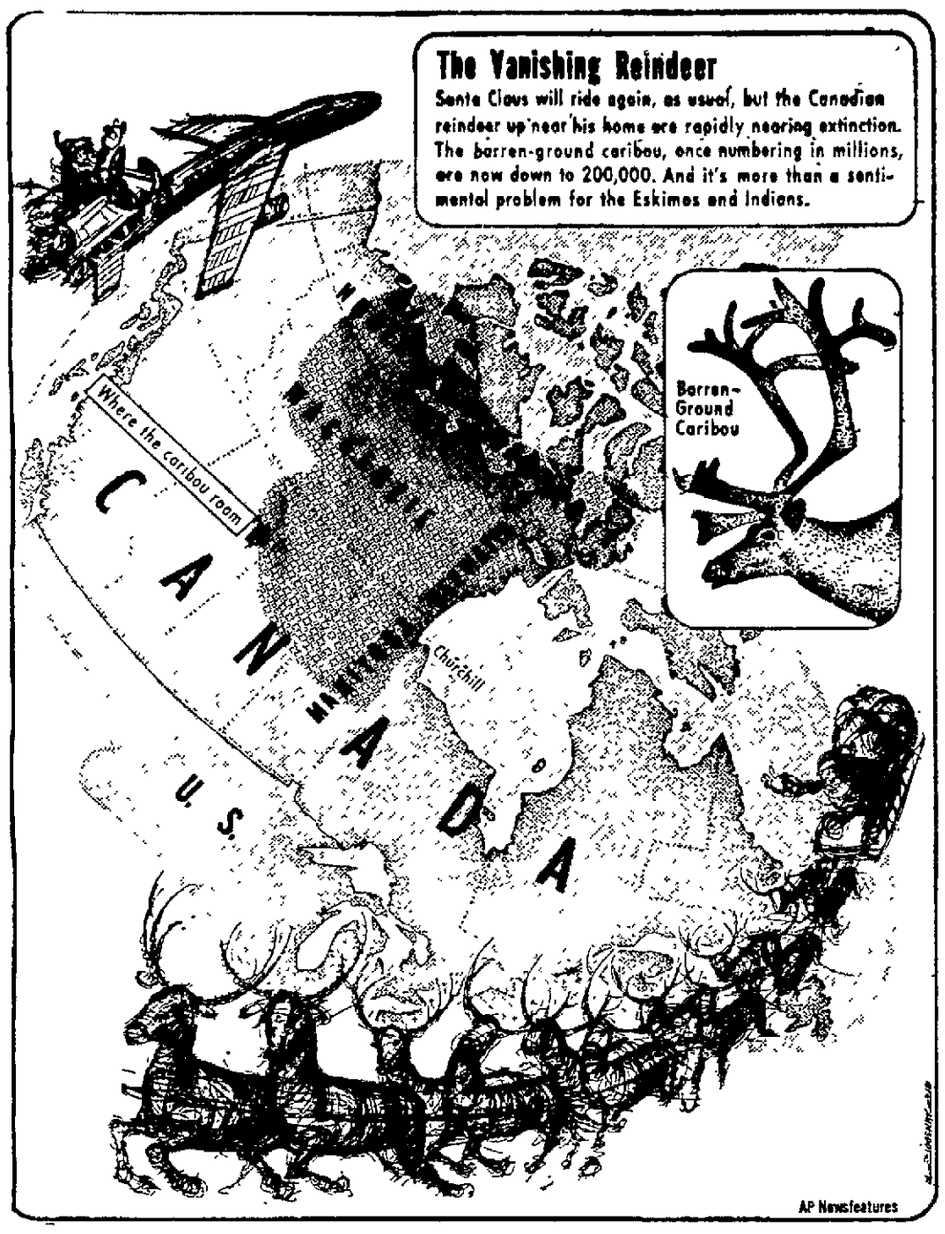

Let it be said, above all other aspects of this legislation which will probably be remembered longer than most of the 1965 legislative acts, that this was a bipartisan achievement. As it happened, the bill was strongly pushed by the Republican governor Doubtless it is fair to say that it would not have been enacted this year if he had been indifferent about the issues it represents. But it is utterly clear also that the Wisconsin Democratic Party, and the preceding Democratic administration of former Gov. John R. Reynolds, contributed significantly to the development of a climate of opinion which permitted it to be adopted this year. In perspective, and remembering that this state pioneered in some of the other equality and anti-discrimination fields of law, this new chapter of Wisconsin statutes comes somewhat tardily.

The new law is not a harsh one. The exemption clauses are liberal, as in the absolute exclusion of owner - occupied premises from its sanctions. Basically, the anti-discrimination penalties apply to commercial housing, to situations in which housing is conducted as a business

The State Industrial Commission, to which has been delegated the responsibility for investigating complaints that may arise, and to administer its provisions, has estimated that perhaps 35 per cent of the housing available in the state will be subject to the conditions set forth in the new statute. The ratio varies with the population complexion of localities. The immediate effects will be most visible in Milwaukee County, which has had the largest influx of Negroes in recent years. Indeed, without the problems of Milwaukee county this would not have arisen as a major issue of state legislation, in all likelihood.

But the prohibitions apply equally to such discriminary practices as may be found in communities in the Fox River Valley and environs. And it does not require the services of a sociologist to surmise that the problems associated with the increasing mobility of the population of the country will afflict us in this district with increasing frequency in future decades.

Governor Knowles in signing the law expressed the view—perhaps it should be called the hope—that the most significant effect of the new law will come through voluntary efforts on the part of property owners covered as well as those not directly covered. The spirit of the new law will be observed by most citizens, he predicted. We earnestly hope he is right. That is the foundation of virtually all of our laws governing human conduct. There are not enough policemen or inspectors to go around. The state has spoken, as solemnly as its constitutional law permits, against discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin, and the vast majority of its residents applaud the fact in their hearts, we are sure.

Bundy Leaves the White House

The resignation of McGeorge Bundy, expected for some time, takes from the Johnson Administration the last major figure from the Kennedy era at the White House. It is likely that Bundy's leaving will mean more responsibility for foreign affairs by the Department of State, the President or both.

There is speculation also that there will be some changes made in our foreign policies after Bundy leaves but to some extent this depends upon the reasons for his departure. As President of the Ford Foundation, his salary will be about $45,000 a year more than in his position as special assistant for national security affairs. Bundy, an example of the Ivy League group, particularly Harvard University, which President Kennedy assembled, is not President Johnson's type. But there is probably more to the resignation than either of these factors.

During President Kennedy's time in office, Bundy's importance in foreign affairs was reported to be so great that he once denied that he was acting as a little Secretary of State. Nevertheless his influence in foreign affairs, particularly in the Far East, was certainly extensive. How responsible he has been for the escalation of the war in Viet Nam has never been explained although it is generally accepted that he represents the "hard line" thinking in dealing with Communists. A study of our recent history indicates that the United States, far more than the Soviet Union, has adopted this hard line in foreign affairs at least since the Bay of Pigs fiasco. It was most successful in the confrontation with Russia over the missile sites in Cuba. But it is quite possible that it is not as sound in Asia.

President Johnson has been plagued more and more with the seriousness of foreign affairs since President Kennedy's assassination. Mr. Bundy's resignation does not take effect until February. By then we should have some idea whether the President intends really to replace him with another influential man or parcel out the responsibilities of his office to Cabinet members and assume some of them himself.

Mother Wins Her Point

The funniest thing happened in the Pentagon last week.

It seems that the mother of a nineteen year old draftee wrote to President Johnson and to the local draft board in her city. She couldn't see why her son had to report for induction on Christmas Eve. Did it make that much difference in the war in Viet Nam, she asked? Couldn't the swearing-in be postponed for three days so that her son, and other young men, could spend Christmas with their families instead of on a train with strangers?

Nothing much has been said about who told whom to do what. But quietly it was announced that there would be no induction of draftees between December 23rd and the 27th.

Now we don't know whether men were to be drafted over Christmas because of the situation in Viet Nam, whether the orders were changed because someone doesn't want us to know how serious things are, whether somebody's image might be tarnished by the orders or whether the whole thing was pretty silly in the first place. But we do sometimes wonder a little about the relative importance of rules and regulations supposedly aimed at delivering us all from communism that can be so easily set aside by one woman's protest. Does it mean our government really has a heart —or no head?

Santa's Reindeers Doing All Right But Cousins the Caribou Dying Off

BY BOB MACKENZIE
Candadian Press Writer

OTTAWA (AP) — Santa's reindeer have survived time and weather to make their annual Christmas journey throughout the world. But their Canadian cousins haven't fared nearly as well.

In fact, Canada's barren-ground caribou — virtually the same animal as the European reindeer — may be on the verge of extinction. Almost 3 million caribou roamed Canada's Northwest Territories at the turn of the century. Now these great herds number only 200,000, and no end of the reduction is in sight.

However, the problem is not simply one of game management, says Fraser Symington in a new book, "Tuktu—A Question of Survival," written for the government's wildlife service. Symington contends the problem is a sociological one, too, because many Eskimos and Indians depend on the caribou for survival.

MAY NEED PROTECTION

"There are those who believe that laws must be made to protect the caribou, and that these laws should be enforced strongly 'across the board,'" he writes.

"The native hunter, feeling the bite of 70 or 80 degrees of frost as his finger caresses the trigger of his rifle, would not understand this viewpoint.

"The caribou have always been there, and the hunters have always killed them. And there are empty bellies back in his camp."

Tukta is an Eskimo name for the northern deer, which is concentrated in the flat tundra of the central Acrtic mainland in the districts of Mackenzie and Keewatin, although they do range as far as Ungava, Baffin Island and the northwestern fringe of northern Ontario near Churchill, Ma.

In the summer, they migrate to the Arctic coast, and even reach some of the southern Arctic islands. They head south for the winter, usually going below the treeline and some go as far as the northern regions of the Prairie provinces.

The illustrated book, available from the Queen's Printer for $2, says much more research is needed to apportion the blame for the losses.

However, Symington says the period of the decline seems to follow closely the introduction of modern firearms in the north, and the increasing activity of the white man in the area.

The rifle makes hunting caribou easier for Indians and Eskimos, he says, and neither people are noted for their belief in conservation. They often kill as much as they can and eat as much as they can when the caribou is available because they know they will also face periods of hunger when hunters will return without meat.

FIRE DESTROYS FOOD

The coming of the white man has been accompanied by an increase in fires, he adds, and the lichens that form the major part of the caribou's diet are slow-growing plants. They often take 50 to 100 years to recover from the ravages of fire.

Predators such as wolves also take a toll, but his loss was insignificant until the numbers started seriously to dwindle.

Symington offers no solution, and doubts an easy answer exists.

"The fact is that we must experiment, for we cannot afford to drift aimlessly and watch the caribou and the people go steadily downhill . . . There is no simple, known solution to the problem."

Fire and wolf losses can be controlled, he concludes, but hunting is another matter. The annual kill already exceeds the caribou birth rate, and a complete ban on hunting would bring hardship for persons relying on the caribou for their food.

Only research can provide the final answer, "But the acknowledged need for more research should not obscure the possibility, and desperate need, to take immediate action."

Wisconsin Report

Impetus Is Growing To Legitimatize Debt In State Constitution

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — One of the gray zones in Wisconsin public finance policy — so gray that it is almost opaque — is the subject of state debt.

On the one hand "there is a nostalgic desire to retain the pay as you go policy that the state found it possible to maintain in simpler times. On the other, there is the grim necessity of providing more public services and institutional plant than the current tax yield can support. The result is that there has developed the dummy corporation as a circumvention of that historical policy and constitutional rule.

Yet there are signs of a more realistic appreciation of the needs of modern government, as in the repeated endorsements of a constitutional amendment for full faith and credit borrowing within stated limitations that have come from a succession of citizen study committees, and some tentative gestures for such an amendment from the politicians on the firing line — which is the legislature.

TRIAL BALLOON

Such a trial balloon, no doubt, was the act of the State Assembly this year in giving a surprisingly big vote of approval to an omnibus debt amendment.

The history of the legislature shows that first time approval of constitutional amendments that require two successive legislative endorsements, followed by ratifying referendum votes, are not especially significant. Many a proposition is casually approved once, and then rejected when there is a full awareness of the issue, and more important, an awareness of the fact that it has reached the decisive stage. At the least, the voting on the second round is usually more cautious and a big vote on the first test does not assure an equally heavy vote on the second.

Yet it is worthy of note that a general debt amendment on the first roll call in the Assembly — the Senate will receive the question for its reaction when the legislature returns in May — showed only three members out of the 100 in the lower house opposed.

At the least, the incident suggests that there is some thinking going on among the legislative policy makers about a question that a decade ago could not have been dragged out of committee, if, indeed, an author could have been found who dared to put his name on the proposition.

ULTIMATELY

The legislature this year has received a number of borrowing amendments, reflecting the special interests of authors or particular pressure groups. Doubtless the most exigent requirements are for institutional building capital, notably to accommodate the higher education enrollment bulge which may be the most significant fact of these times.

Yet there are other important purposes and objectives of borrowing proposals, including highway construction and the acquisition and development of public recreation and forest areas. At least three recent governors have favored highway bonding as a means of concentrating on the acceleration of trunk roads. Gov. Knowles, who is regarded as a fiscal conservative by Democratic critics at least, favors the idea of some borrowing as a menas of anticipating and defeating inevitable price rise losses to the state in the recreational lands acquisition program.

The Assembly-approved proposal would roll up those major objectives into a single amendment and permit an aggregate bonded state debt to five per cent of state-value property tax assessment, or perhaps a total of a billion dollars including the outstanding debt of the existing building corporations. Doubtless the proposal sounds ambitious at first glance. But it is not unreasonable to suppose that this will be the course the state will ultimately follow.

Looking Backward

Plea Made for Better Roads

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Dec. 16, 1865.

Editor Crescent: In good weather, Appleton has one decent road leading to it, which her sportsmen seem to appreciate, whether they ever contributed a cent toward building that road or not. But the rest are not fit to do credit to a country four corners.

Wealth lies in good roads, as they enable one to do a proportionately larger amount of business over them, in the same time, with less expenditure and strength.

Wealth is in good roads, as it brings to your doors the produce and trade of other places.

Men will drive 10 miles farther, in doing a day's journey, in order to secure the driving over good roads, and make money at that. And if the good roads bring them to your place, then the advantages of trade which good roads will enable you to give them, will secure you to their custom.

As the people of Appleton seem to a great extent to be bound to pursue trading for a livelihood buy and sell eggs for a living — they, above all others, should be interested in good roads.

Then, the manufacturing interests should be interested in good roads, as they sell to those who travel over the roads to buy. So, in proportion to the goodness of the roads will they be favored in custom and demand for their wares increase.

25 YEARS AGO
Saturday, Dec. 7, 1940.

Abraham Sigman was elected chancellor commander of the Appleton Knights of Pythias, succeeding Victor Schmidt. Member Earl Miller was recommended for deputy grand chancellor, subject to the approval of the state organization.

New members of the Appleton Girl Scout Council were Mrs. W. A. Strassburger, Mrs. George Buesing and Mrs. William Waymire.

The skit "Micro-Maniacs" was presented at a student assembly at New London High School. Dale Sauter appeared as the imitator of the Shadow, Lone Ranger and other famous radio personalities. Other students in the cast were Melda Runge, Beulah Thompson, Evelyn Backes, Betty Gottschalk, Robert Patchen and Hogan Mathewson.

Six members of the Girls Athletic Association were chosen for a regional playday at Oshkosh High School. They were Marian Wainer, Geraldine McPeak, Phyllis Morien, Jane Knapstein, Delores Brault and Betty Schonek.

10 YEARS AGO
Saturday, Dec. 10, 1955.

John Kuchenbecker was elected president of the Outagamie County Deputy Sheriffs Association. Flight Causes More Loss Than Theft

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A man who stole some groceries caused more damage in fleeing than in stealing. The man collected $12 worth of food at a supermarket, then crashed through a $100 plate glass window to make his escape, police said.

Swimming Pool Should Be Built To Serve All Children in District

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Have read all your articles concerning Appleton's future and capital improvement plan with great interest. I would like to be able to say at this time that I am one hundred per cent behind it, but cannot because of the great cost.

Unless you have mislead your readers, by the last year of the six year plan our tax rate will have jumped $18 41, over 38 per cent. I think it is also a safe conclusion that other costs, both county and city, will rise during the same period and raise our total tax rate somewhere between 45 and 50 per cent by 1971.

Except for schools the greatest cost of this program is for improvement of the downtown business district on the theory that this will attract more people to downtown Appleton to spend more money. Wouldn't it have the opposite effect? For myself it would take more than $10 per month of my disposable income and not just for one year, but many years. It would be disastrous for the retired among us. Last but not least, I must ask what effect it would have on local industry?

As I read your articles on this subject I wanted to read between the lines and say for example that the $3.77 raise means $3.77 over the present rate, but cannot justify such an interpretation. If this is correct then I say full speed ahead!

I believe the Appleton school district caught an albatross with the decision to include a swimming pool in the new high school. I say this with full knowledge that even mentioning swimming pool has automatically created a controversy ever since the Erb Park pool was built.

If legally possible, this pool should be eliminated by negotiation with the contractor. The money saved could be used for completion and purchase of deferred items. In a few years angry parents are going to demand equal facilities for the old high school.

If swimming is to be taught in our schools it should be started at a lower level than high school.

As an alternative, the board of education could build and administer the proposed west side school making this an indoor all year pool for all schools, both public and parochial, with one swimming coach and assistant if needed.

Assuming that no individual would get more than six swimming periods during any one school year, double periods could be assigned with one of these being physical education and the other study shop or other similar periods wherever possible. A school bus would probably have to be purchased, but this could also be used for other things such as field trips.

Such a pool could be used by the public during periods when not used by the schools, operated by the recreation department under direction of the school board.

Although initially this may cose more over the long haul it will save a lot of money. I see no difficulty with the attached towns as Appleton's pools have never known geographical boundaries and percentagewise there are always more drownings among rural children. This is largely because they have less opportunity to learn swimming with qualified instructors.

The foregoing had already been written before I read about the proposed pool for Neenah in today's P. C. I believe they are on the right track and hope this letter will be an aid in arriving at their decision. I would like to see the P.C., city hall and board of education flooded with comments on this, whether it is pro or con, for that is the only way we ever obtain the best in government or facilities.

We have consolidated school districts and are on the verge of consolidating several districts into a Vocational school district. This is to give a better education for all at less cost per pupil, so why not consolidate facilities within a district which are too costly to put in every school.

Where Would We Rather Fight Reds ,in America?

Editor, Post-Crescent:

After reading the two letters in The Post-Crescent issue for Saturday, December 4th. both of which were on Viet Nam, I would like to give my own opinions on it. The main purpose of my letter though is to provide an answer to the letters I read.

First of all to Mr. Hochkammer, who used two words, slaughter and bloodletting, which are often now being heard in connection with the Viet Nam situation, I would like to quote from the Bible, Deuteronomy 20:4, "For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you." Chapter 20 of Deuteronomy is concerned with rules for war. Doesn't this acknowledge God's acceptance of the inevitableness of war? To say that the entire world can live in peace and harmony is foolishly idealistic. Realistic supporters will end war sooner than moralistic opposers.

I was given the impression from Mr. Hochkammer's letter that he is against war in general. He seems to suggest that American Christians are not practicing what they preach. I would like to suggest that Mr. Hochkammer is also guilty of this. He says in his letter:

"May the Christian God cause all those Americans who favor inflicting death and suffering on the Vietnamese to enjoy an equal amount of death and suffering."

In his very next sentence he states that he is a veteran of World War II!!

Mr. Prohaska, the author of the second letter, also is a veteran of World War II. Fighting in that war was never done in the United States. The fighting was against Communism. Mr. Prohaska dislikes the idea of his son having to fight against Communism in Viet Nam. Would he rather have his son fight against Communism on U. S. soil? We didn't declare war in World War II until the attack on Pearl Harbor. Isn't one tragedy of this kind enough to teach the American people a lesson concerning the ways of the Communist? n the early days of our nation the Mexican War was fought by expansionists who wanted democracy spread over the entire continent. The War of 1812 was fought for the same purpose. Communists are also expansionists.

The Democratic Party cannot be blamed for the war in Viet Nam. In 1956 the ruler of S. Viet Nam asked for U. S. help. A very fine Republican president, Dwight Eisenhower, granted this support.

Most people are unaware of the way Communist military forces gain control of populated areas. Forces move in and kill all the leaders. They kill the doctors, the lawyers, the businessmen, the educated people, the thinking minds. What is left? The followers; the farmers, the laborers, the uneducated and illiterate. The followers now need new leaders. Their new leaders are the Communists.

If we don't stop this in Viet Nam it is very possible for it to spread to America. If this should happen what would be your destiny? Mr. Hochkammer, Mr. Prohaska, everyone who reads this — would you be a dead leader or a doomed follower?

plane. Then came other officials, several hours later.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor announced his department's budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1 would fall short of the curent level of more than $1.2 billion.

"It is quite clear," he said, "that although there will be reductions in many of the civilian programs, particularly some of the newer ones that were voted by Congress during the past year, we still will be able to get them off to a good start and continue our programs at a healthy level."

But he also said it was evident that some of them — and he specifically mentioned the Johnson-sponsored Appalachia and economic development programs — "will be phased out so that it will take longer to achieve the results than we thought would be the case earlier in the year."

Connor was asked if Viet Nam was the reason for the belt-tightening. He said he didn't discuss this with Johnson but "I'm sure it was in his mind."

Farm Costs Down

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman followed Connor to the podium and said his budget, currently programmed at nearly $6.9 billion, will be "significantly less" next year — "quite a bit less."

Sources close to Johnson have said spending in the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, will run to $105 billion to $107 billion — compared with a January estimate of $99.7 billion.

The increase is mainly due to Viet Nam.

At this point, no official sources here were prepared to guess what spending total Johnson will recommend for fiscal 1967 when he submits his budget to Congress next month.

Green Bay Area Couples Injured In Plane Crash

WALWORTH (AP) — Four persons were injured, two seriously, late Friday when a single engine Cessna 172 aircraft crashed in a cornfield near Walworth apparently while attempting to land in heavy fog and drizzle.

Joseph LeMere, 40, and Bernard DuChateau, 44, both of rural Green Bay, were taken to Rockford, Ill., Memorial Hospital, where both were listed in poor condition early Saturday. Their wives, with them in the plane, were listed in fair condition

Police Chief Donald Craig of Walworth said the plane rolled over as it crashed in the farm field near Walworth Gally wrapped Christmas gifts and luggage were strewn among the wreckage. The Walworth County sheriff's department said the couples apparently were returning from a convention trip to Florida.

Authorities said the two men and Mrs DuChateau had to be pulled from the wreckage.

problem. We've had trouble with the CAP committee almost since we've been here. When we weren't under direct influence of them, it seemed anything we did was wrong."

Jill and Judy moved out of their reservation quarters rented to them by the director of the CAP project, Mrs. Alex Gokee. Mrs. Bresette and two of the three other members of the CAP executive committee resigned. So did the entire Housing Authority Committee, stalling that program.

"They have been here 10 weeks now and so far they have only organized a youth club and that meets in the evening. They do nothing all day long. They could have done something for the old without being asked," charged Mrs. Bresette.

"The youth was a good starting place for us," said Judy. "We had about 20 kids down there painting and fixing the hall. We have about 40 members. We were planning a bingo party to raise money in order to have a Christmas party for the whole community."

Wait for Cooling Off

"We had adults education classes planned, special health care classes, so many things," said Mrs. Bresette. "Oh, there were so many things that were so wonderful about the CAP program. But now . We might get it started again, maybe, possibly after everything cools off —if it ever does."

She added, "They have people being aroused around here. It's terrible. My husband went to the hall to ask for the keys Wednesday night. A few of the children started yelling at him. He had to walk out rather than cause any trouble."

"We feel we really have the backing of the community," said Judy. "We've contacted Washington. And the tribal council may have a special meeting Monday night We really want to stay."

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

We have 13 grandchildren and most of them are dating and using the family car.

Dating seemed to be quite an expense for mom and pop when it came to buying gasoline for the auto, and this became a bone of contention in the family.

When Christmas rolled around, the presents for the grandchildren made quite a dip into our Christmas savings, as I could never find much they might appreciate for three dollars apiece.

Now Grandad and I go to our favorite filling station and pay for 10 gallons of gas for each child who is old enough to drive This leaves a credit for each one, and the gasoline can be used five gallons at a time, or anyway they see fit

For the grandchildren who live out of town, we just enclose three new one dollar bills with a holiday card and say, "This is for gasoline for your next date."

Now, all the grandkids look forward to their gifts each year. Sure solved a problem for us.

Grandma and Grandpa

What a wonderful idea. Next time you pour a cup of coffee, drink it for me.

Get out the nylon net!

It gives you a firm grip and leaves the inside of the bird as clean as the outside.

Dear Heloise:

A couple of years ago, after I'd wrapped all the different, individual Christmas packages to be shipped to my family in faraway places, I just hated to put them into ordinary old cartons with labels and printing all over them, even though I was going to cover them with brown paper.

So, I took some green rubber-based paint left over from painting a game room, painted all sides, tops and bottoms of the sturdy cartons. (Any color of paint would do· I just happened to have green.)

I packed the small packages into the cartons carefully, tied them all up with red string, put on mailing labels and off they went — with no additional wrapping necessary.

They were attractive inside and out!

Dear Deep Freezer Owners:

Here's something I just learned about cleaning out my deep freezer:

You know those ol' plastic net bags that onions, potatoes, etc., come in?

Take all of those little, piddling packages of frozen stuff that matches, and throw them in one of those plastic net bags! This way, they are all together

Label the bag, such as "Odds and ends", "Baked potatoes", etc (This is probably the stuff that has "gotten lost" in your deep freezer).

One thing about it is that these bags fall into place, and take up those little, extra spaces, and do not stick to the deep freezer, such as cartons and freezer paper do.

Another good thing about them is that they are easily opened, and you can take out as little as you need, without searching through the whole freezer.

Worked beautifully.

Your Problems

Ann Dubbs Woman's Situation 'Most Embarrassing Moment'

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your column has provided me with many a good chuckle these last several years and now I'm going to give you one.

The letter from the woman who complained about the $2.00 falsies floating to the top of the swimming pool reminded me of one of the most unforgettable experiences of my life.

Many years ago I attended a convention where all those ladies wear silk dresses with floral patterns and big hats My best friend's aunt was being installed as president. This was back in the days when falsies were inflatable, like balloons. Well, the outgoing president made a gushy speech and closed with: "It is an honor for me to present you with this corsage as a token of our esteem and affection." She then proceeded to pin it on the incoming president.

You guessed it. Bang went the balloon and half of her dimensions changed right there in front of 2,000 people. Naturally this was the highlight of the convention and it was a topic of conversation for several years So be thankful for foam rubber, girls — No Town for Gosh Sakes

Dear No Town: If you ever year of a contest for the most embarrassing moment, that woman has first prize right in her pocket. (And I hope it's not a medal.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband's little sister, Cora (age 14) spent the month of July with us. We drove 1,000 miles to pick her up so she wouldn't have to travel alone Her parents came to get her, spent three days, and brought along their son, his fiancee and their niece.

At this writing I have not had a line from any of them. Last week my mother-in-law called about another matter and closed with this: "Thank heavens Cora is talking normally again. She drove us crazy for weeks with that revolting southern accent she picked up from you and your friends."

Both my husband and I are very hurt that not one of them has written to say thanks. I don't want a family feud Shall I make an issue of this or ignore it? — Ice in the South

Dear Ice: A 14-year-old girl who doesn't know enough to write a thank you letter after visiting for a month in your home is so pathetically cloddish that I feel sorry for her. The rest of the tribe (including the fiancee and her niece) are also graceless slobs.

My advice is to forget it. These people are not mean nor destructive. They are just ignorant.

DEAR ANN LANDERS· One of the best things about your column is that people can ask you questions they wouldn't dare ask anybody else because they don't have to look you in the face. Also, you don't know the person who is writing so nobody gets embarrassed.

Please tell me this: What is a girl supposed to do when she cries a lot at a funeral or a wedding or in a sad movie and needs to borrow a handkerchief from a boy. Does she return the handkerchief after she has used it, or does she say "Thank you," and let it go at that? — Miss Waterworks

Dear Miss W.: The handkerchief presented in an emergency is not a gift, it is a loan. It should be laundered and returned.

They dropped 34 tons of bombs on bridges, roads and truck convoys and storage areas 25 miles south and southeast of Dong Hoi.

Tip Allows Police to Stop Planned 'Rumble' Between Young Gangs

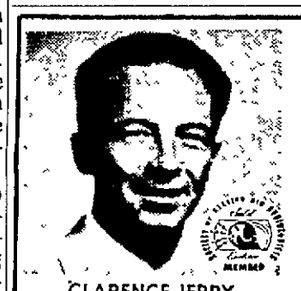

NEW YORK (AP) — Acting on a tip, transit police deployed along a subway Friday to break up a Brooklyn gang rumble before it got started.

At the De Kalb Avenue station a crowd of 75 teen-agers, all Negroes, rushed from a train. Three detectives shouted at the boys and girls to stop When their command was ignored, the police produced pistols and halted them.

About 30 girls in the group were searched by a policewoman and released. Three 13-year-old girls, allegedly carrying five butcher knives and a stiletto, were booked on weapons violations charges along with 25 boys The boys ranged in age from 14 to 20.

Police said they learned later the gang fight had been scheduled with a group of white youths outside a junior high school.

BY CAPPY DICK

Today's fun-project provides directions for making a striking display of a figurine The figurin emay be a sxall doll or te statue of an animal such as a dog, cat or horse

Figure 1 shows a wall bracket that easily can be made of plywood with the aid of a jigsaw and some small nails The unusual thing about the bracket is tqat the shelf hee a slot cut into it through which the handle of an old hand mirror will fit as shown in figure 1.

The wood bracket should be varnished or stained and waxed after it has been put together to provide the mosl attractive allearance possible.

The mirror may be removed a any time simply by lifting it to slide the handle out of the slot if two such brackets are made they may be fastened to the wall at each side of your dresser.

Physician Joins in Army Chow Gripes

LA JOLLA, Calif (AP) — Grumbling about Army chow — a province of the GI — has been joined by a government physician.

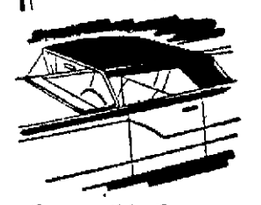

The Army's diet of milk, butter, eggs and fat beef is described as "atherogenic" by Dr William Dock, chief of medical services at the Brooklyn Veterans Administration Hospital in New York.

This means, he said, it's a diet that may lead to heart trouble. Other armed services are in the same boat, he said

"Being well-fed is not always an advantage," he said at a postgraduate program of the American College of Cardiology meeting here.

"Heart disease used to be a disease of rich people," but now that almost everyone can afford rich foods and animal fats, heart disease is a feature of mass culture and an affluent society, he said.

Secret Agent Is Lodger in Lush House

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-8:30 - Channels 2-12 — Secret Agent has another stylish, underplayed, suspenseful episode with "English Lady Takes Lodgers." Patrick McGoohan pretends to be an unsuccessful novelist who takes up residence in the lush boarding house villa of Gabriella Licudi, a beauty who turns in a compelling performance. Her husband is "missing," and while the police search for him she welcomes McGoohan to her home, which also includes a bird-watcher and a handsome young chap. Most of the action is on a winding train whose conductor is Johnny Carson, funny in one brief scene.

9-10 - Channels 2-7-12 — Gunsmoke is all in a cold sweat over Lane Bradbury, a horse-riding gun moll who wants badly to reform. She tries hard to settle down in Dodge City over the protests of her outlaw buddies.

NBC Specials Best in Television's Top 20

Julie Andrews Show Has Highest Rating, CBS 14 Entries; Only One ABC Program

BY JINGO

An analysis of the latest report of the American Research Bureau on the top 20 television shows (week of Nov. 22-28) revealed some interesting facts; notably, NBC specials grabbed the top spots, CBS had most of the remainder of the shows and poor ABC still can't get going.

The top-rated show was the Julie Andrews special, followed by the James Bond special, both on NBC. Perhaps helping their high ratings was the fact that the specials pre-empted two of the network's most-popular series, "Bonanza" and "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." Viewers were accustomed to watching the network in those time slots.

As for the rest of the list, CBS ran away with 14 entries; NBC had five and stumbling ABC just one.

The top 20: 1) "Julie Andrews;" 2) "James Bond;" 3) "Danny Kaye;" 4) "Lucy Show;" 5) "Gomer Pyle;" 6) tie between "Get Smart" and Walt Disney;" 8) tie between "Salute to Stan Laurel" special and "Thursday Night Movie;" 11) "Andy Griffith;" 12) "Jackie Gleason;" 13) "Hogan's Heroes;" 14) "My Three Sons;" 15) "Ed Sullivan;" 16) "I've Got a Secret;" 17) "Dick Van Dyke;" 18) "Peyton Place 1;" 19) "Saturday Night Movie," and 20) "Green Acres."

Breaking the top 20 into nights, Monday and Wednesday had the most, four, followed by Sunday, Friday and Saturday, three, Thursday, two, and Tuesday, one.

NBC was strongest on the weekends, with one Friday and two each on Saturday and Sunday in the listings. CBS had at least one show every night and dominated the entire middle section of the week, with all series listed for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday on that network. ABC's lone entry was on Monday, "Peyton Place I."

The inclusion of "Danny Kaye" in the ratings was a welcome addition. It was the first time the talented entertainer has managed to crack the top 20 this season.

The only new series to make the list were "Get Smart," "Hogan's Heroes" and "Green Acres."

When ABC desperately initiates its several new shows in January, an attempt at bolstering plummeting ratings, one worth at least a peek will be "Batman." The comic book and movie serial star will be on twice each week and word is the network is handling the show very tongue-in-cheek. That's refreshing, because trying to imagine "Batman" as a straight effort is absurd.

The following exchance will demonstrate the humor ABC is intending: Adam West, dressed in his Batman outfit, walks into a restaurant and the headwaiter offers him a good table. "No, I'll sit at the bar," he says. "I don't want to be conspicuous."

An open letter to WBAY-TV, Channel 2, Green Bay:

Gentlemen: Once again, your channel is pre-empting CBS' "Camera Three" Sunday morning and substituting another movie. If money from advertising contracts is more appealing, why not run "Camera Three" on a delayed basis, say late Sunday afternoon? Must culture continue to be sacrificed? Why can't we see "Camera Three?"

Sincerely,
Jingo

Mrs. Mary Joan Taylor, one of the three women indicted, will be arraigned Thursday in Madison. She is charged with using inter-state transpotation and the U.S. Mail to promote prostitution. The third woman and one man are in custody in Ashland.

Cuba Offers Coffee Growers Higher Prices

Beverage Sells for Up to $15 a Pound On Black Market

By RICHARD DAW

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's Communist regime is offering coffee growers a little capitalistic incentive — higher prices — hope of increasing production.

The first aim is to get production up to at least that of pre-Communist days so that Cubans once again can get their fill of their favorite beverage, now rationed.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government also hopes to get Cuba firmly back into coffee exports to bring in foreign exchange.

Castro's long-range goal is to be producing 200 million pounds of coffee a year by 1970, almost twice the island's record 1956 production of 116.8 million pounds. The current crop is expected to be about 60 million pounds.

Small Farms

Most sugar land is in the hands of the government, but more than 80 per cent of Cuba's coffee is grown on privately owned small farms.

Castro called on farmers to show their patriotism by producing more coffee — and then announced price hikes of 20 per cent.

The increase brings a hundredweight of washed coffee to 60 pesos, with corresponding raises in prices for other types. Part of the increase is to go to the land owners and part to the pickers.

Under rationing, Cubans now get 1½ ounces of coffee a week legally, at 95 centavos a pound. Black market prices range from 8 to 15 pesos, depending on availability. The Cuban peso officially is on a par with the United States dollar and the centavo with the U.S. cent but their purchasing power is generally much less.

Bids Awarded

Three School Buses Purchased at Neenah

NEENAH — Three 72-passenger school buses costing $22,744 and library equipment for $9,820 were approved at a special meeting of the school board Friday afternoon.

Awarding of bids followed the board's approval of the $3,638,748 joint school district budget for 1966. The board action was a procedural matter after the towns in the district and the city council approved budgets at a special session Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Barbara Gulbrand was hired for first grade at Spring Road School to replace Mrs. Kay Reese who resigned effective Dec. 17.

The $22,744 bus bid was the low among nine bids submitted by three companies for additions to the school fleet. An International chasis with a V-8 engine and Superior body was a low bid by Bauer Truck and Equipment, Appleton. Each firm submitted three bids using each of the body styles on their particular chasis. High bid was $24,200.

No trade in was taken on the buses, James Clark, business manager said. The new models will replace several units now 10 years old and unusable for the daily 199-mile school bus route. Trade-in on the old models was so small, Clark said, that the board decide to keep the old buses and use them to service the new James B. Conant Junior High School being constructed on the Swatscheno farm site.

The buses will be used to transport children living east of U.S. 41 across the busy freeway. No youngster will have to walk or ride a bicycle across the highway or cross at the Cecil Street intersection.

Also awarded were contracts for library equipment for the new Conant Library. Three bids were received. Successful bidders for all equipment, chairs, tables, book racks, periodical stands and librarian equipment was Valley School Supply of Appleton with Buckstaff Equipment of Oshkosh. Bid was $9,280.

Other bids received were from Wisconsin School Service, Milwaukee, $10,040, and Bro Dart, Newark, N. J., $12,325.

Thirty-two geologists representing 10 Wisconsin universities and colleges attended the meeting at the invitation of State Geologist George F. Hanson.

Eugene N. Cameron, University of Wisconsin economic geologist, was elected president of the new group.

"We have here for the first time the propsect of an integrated attack on geological problems of the state," Cameron said. "The information gained by this banding together should contribute significantly to the development of the mineral and water resources of Wisconsin."

Members of the newly formed association listed the following immediate needs in the state:

3. Modern textbook materials for Wisconsin elementary and secondary schools.

Damage to the Loehning car was to the right front fender.

Police have a description of the other car.

Mothers Take Stop Sign's Place

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A group of mothers took matters in their own hands Thursday afternoon in protecting their children who had to cross a freeway access with no traffic control to get home from school.

The mothers, most of them from the Milwaukee Lapham Park Housing Development, stretched a rope made visible with red decorations across the street and raised it intermittently to allow children to cross. They lowered the rope to allow traffic to move.

The mothers had asked for traffic officers or a stop sign at the crossing, contending that the traffic flow reached about 4,000 cars during the periods when youngsters were crossing.

The rope remained in use only briefly. Police officers soon arrived, took it away, and directed traffic manually.

Bergstrom Christmas Tree

Neenah Spruce Attains Height of 25-Year Life

NEENAH — A pine tree seedling set in the front yard of the Alfred Lange home, 607 Doty Ave., has been groomed and pampered for 25 years until it has reached the ultimate goal of any perfectly formed spruce.

Today it stands on a five-foot pedestal adorned in Christmas finery at Bergstrom Paper Co.

The availability of the tree was made known to Bergstrom officials by the owner and company employes were sent to cut down the spruce and transport it to its new setting.

Flat Bed Truck

Transportation was completed on a flat bed truck and the tree placed on the pedestal by block and tackle with power furnished by a tractor, Henry Bickerstaff, public relations department official, said.

Lange planted the tree in the front yard of his home on the corner of Doty Avenue and Linden Court. The tree was cultivated and trimmed regularly, according to Mrs. Lange, accounting for its semitry.

The decision to remove the tree came after it had reached a height deemed unsafe because of possible wind damage and its location. The tree also was too near flower beds, Mrs. Lange said. She said a spruce will replace the former at a new location.

The tree, in its new setting, has been decorated with oversized ornaments by men working from scaffolding. The tree, with its huge ropes of tinsel, large silver bells and striped canes make an eye catching combination.

Borman Flying In Space With A Common Cold

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—How does a man who has been in space for more than six days catch cold from anything or anybody?

"The incubation period for a common cold probably yaries between 4 and 10 days, depending upon the organism," said Berry. "So it's quite conceivable he could have been exposed, infected and could show the symptoms 4 to 10 days after the exposure."

"I had to suggest on the basis of two sneezes we ought to say that the command pilot is getting a cold," he said.

Kimberly-Clark Initiates Changes in Paper Machines

NEENAH — Two paper forming developments on Kimberly-Clark Corp. paper machines that may have an important impact on how paper is made for household tissue products and magazines are described in the current issue of Cooperation, the company magazine.

An article which salutes the company's basic breadwinners—its 93 paper machines—says one of the processes involved formation of a wet sheet of paper as a sandwich between two Fourdrinier wires. The other development, claimed to be more radical in paper forming, is expected to push machine speeds and production in creped wadding manufacturing to higher levels than ever before.

Kimberly-Clark has built 17 of its 93 machines in the last 10 years and has 10 others in planning or construction stages. It also has a continuing program of up-dating older machines.

Kimberly-Clark's Fox Cities plants have 15 machines, five at Kimberly for the maufacture of printing and publication papers, seven at Neenah mill for production of creded wadding, and three at Neenah Paper Mill for manufacture of business papers and specialties.

Traditional and space-age contributions of Kimberly-Clark Corp. products also are pictured in the magazine.

Some of the many ways paper heightens the Christmas holiday season include decorative products like the new holiday tissues, imprinted with sprays of green and red pine boughs.

Tons of Kimberly-Clark printing papers, some made at the Kimberly mill, provided the frame for items in Christmas catalogs, booklets, magazine and newspaper advertisements.

Christmas trees are making homes decorative for the holidays. While Kimberly-Clark is not in the Christmas tree business, its woodlands divisions in four states does harvest some Chritmas trees off K-C land.

Cooperation also features pictorially some of the "for-the-future" disposable dresses produced by Chicago designers at an annual all-Chicago designers fashion show and luncheon Each designer received a bolt of Kaycel disposal non-woven fabric made at K-C's Atlas Mill. Evening frocks, ball gowns, a wedding dress and a futuristic gown are pictured.

Center Plans Institute For Biology Teachers

Funds for 10-Session Course Provided By National Science Foundation Grant

An in-service institute for high school biology teachers will be conducted next spring by the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center.

Dr. Leander Schwartz, assistant professor of botany at the Center, will teach the course.

Class sessions will be at Seymour, Menasha, Xavier, Oshkosh and Chilton High Schools, 10 times throughout the spring, with the first class scheduled for Feb. 2.

Science Grant

The course is sponsored by the university's extension division as the result of a National Science Foundation grant which was awarded to Schwartz.

Objectives of the in-service institute are to give participating teachers an up-to-date understanding of modern approaches to their subject matter, to bring about an exchange of information on teaching techniques and laboratory methods and to give teachers an opportunity to increase their teaching skills through use of findings that came from the recent biological sciences curriculum study.

Limited Enrollment

Enrolment in the program is limited to 25. The extension division, in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction, will select the participants, who will receive book and travel allowances.

To be eligible for the institute, applicants should be high school biology teachers, although applications from a limited number of high school general science teachers will also be considered. Preference will be given to those who have not previously participated in the Biological Sciences Curriculum Study.

Requests for application forms must be received by Dec. 23. Forms and additional information may be obtained by contacting Ronald L. Gray, assistant to the dean of the Center.

Rare Coin Thief Begins State Prison Sentence

Iola Publishing Firm Employe Gets Term Of No Less Than 5 Years for $10,000 Crime

WAUPACA — Jack W. Nannery, 39, Iola, was sentenced Friday to not less than five years at the Waupun State Prison for the $13,800 Iola coin theft, when he was arraigned for sentencing before County Judge, Wendell McHenry.

Nannery, charged with the theft of more than 5,500 silver dollars and several rare coins from Krause Publications, Iola, Oct. 14, was arrested Oct. 29 and pleaded guilty to the charge Nov. 17. Since that time a presentence investigation ordered by Judge McHenry was conducted. From the time of his arrest, Nannery has been held in the county jail in lieu of a $15,000 bond. He was taken to Waupun, Friday afternoon to start his sentence.

On the night of the theft, Nannery who was employed by the publishing firm as an associate editor, used his keys to enter the office building and remove the silver dollars and coins from safes and took the money to the garage of his home. He then returned to the office with an electric drill and screw driver to drill out the safe locks and force a rear door to give a false impression that a burglary had occurred.

Canvas Bags

Later he took the bulk of the silver dollars which were in canvas bags and hid them under old railroad ties near the western edge of the village. Harry Finch, a local restaurant owner discovered the hidden bags of money Oct. 20.

From the time of the discovery until Nannery was arrested the cask of money was staked out by the Waupaca county Sheriff's Department.

During the investigation which was led by Undersheriff William Mork, it was learned that Nannery had given false information on the job application he had submitted to Krause Publications. He had not been a former New York City police lieutenant but had worked as a night watchman. It was also revealed that he has served a prison sentence for armed robbery and was paroled in 1947.

Despite his past record, Nannery was well known in coin circles and had been an officer of a Brooklyn, N. Y. coin club and served as security officer at several New York coin shows. According to officials of the Iola Publishing firm, Nannery was also an authority on military currency.

While Nannery was being questioned about the theft, he maintained he had disposed of more than $3,500 worth of the rare coins at the Iola dump where about 75 silver dollars and a few pennies were found.

Received Three Pennies

While the investigation was in progress the sheriff's department received three pennies from a man in New York who said Nannery had sent them to him for sale. They were part of the loot and valued at $850. The rare coins taken in the theft were from the collection of Chester Krause, owner of the publishing firm.

When Nannery took the stand Friday to make a statement before being sentenced, he said the $3,500-worth of unaccounted coins are in the Iola dump.

Police Network Proposal Asks Switch From Low to High Band

A one-day Outagamie County Board meeting is expected for December, with supervisors considering matters from the airport, public property and insurance, courts justice and enforcement committees.

The November board session lasted four days.

The public property and insurance committee will submit a resolution asking the board to give final approval to a new county employes insurance plan which has won recommendation by the employe groups.

The health, hospitalization and major medical package being submitted for board action would make the North American Insurance Co. the new carrier for the county. The plan, if adopted, would go into effect Jan. 1, according to insurance committee members.

Members of the courts, justice and enforcement committee will seek board approval to study a cost plan for a new police radio program for the county traffic and sheriff's departments.

Radio Tower

The new system, which would provide for relocation of the radio tower to a more central spot in the county, and new consoles and a new transmitter, has been the subject of study for the past several weeks by members of the committee.

The present system is 15 years old, and county authorities contend that better service, clearer signals and less crowded air waves could be had by switching from the present low band to a high band system.

Cost estimates will be studied if the board approves such a move Tuesday.

Airport committee personnel will ask board approval of new space rental and landing fee contracts with North Central Airlines and Air Wisconsin.

Another proposal to be submitted by the airport committee provides for airport manager and fixed base operators contracts which reportedly include revisions from the present set-up.

Professor at Valley Center Gets Grant

Dr. Elmer A. Havens, associate chairman of the Fox Valley University Center English department, has been awarded a summer research grant by the University of Wisconsin Research Committee.

The writers Havens will study are similar to the "Angry Young Men" movement in contemporary British letters.

He will concentrate on analyzing individual works of the four authors and attempt to discover if they share a common tone. His research will be done here and in Madison.

Havens received his bachelor's degree from Cornell College, Iowa, in 1951, and a bachelor of divinity degree from Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N.J., in 1954. He received his doctorate in English this year from the University of Wisconsin.

Ashland Airport Involved

State Aeronautics Board Objects To Cut in North Central Service

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — If North Central Airlines is forced to continue DC-3 service to Ashland, it will cost air travelers in Green Bay, Manitowoc and Rhinelander the use of 40 airplane seats a day, the state Aeronautics Commission was told Friday by company spokesmen.

The airline has petitioned the federal Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to discontinue one round trip a day into the Ashland airport made with DC-3 airliners. The Ashlaod terminal has only two round trips daily at present.

Commission Director T. K. Jordan, acting on previous commission policy positions, filed an objection with the CAB. The commission Friday supported the objection.

Convairs Planned

The airline told the state commission that it plans to fly over Ashland on one of its two daily trips, using new, larger Convair-made aircraft that cannot land at the Ashland airport due to a lack of runway space. The other daily flight would use DC-3 airplanes.

The confrontation over the North Central plans came with a request to the CAB for federal funds for a runway-lengthening project at Ashland.

The Ashland project is not included in the state airport plan for air terminal construction and improvements.

The CAB has ordered that North Central service at the Ashland airport be ended. The airport now is one stop on a flight originating at Duluth and passing through Ashland, Rhinelander, Manitowoc, Green Bay and Milwaukee, terminating in Chicago.

Ashland Protests

The Convair service would make all stops but Ashland.

Ashland has protested, and is appealing the federal decision in the U.S. District Court of Appeals in Chicago. The court's ruling is expected in January.

"We strongly object to commission attempts to force us to use equipment that we intend to phase out of our system," said North Central staff attorney Norman Herro, referring to the DC-3 airplanes.

The airline plans to stop using those aircraft by the end of 1967.

R. B. Harrison, president of the Ashland Union National Bank, told the commission that the loss of two existing flights would actually mean the loss to the community of the airline service, no matter what the federal court's decision.

Use it or Lose It

Unless the two trips are maintained, he said, the daily passenger totals would fall below the CAB-set five per day needed under a "use it or lose it" policy. Use of the Ashland airport over the past year averaged 5.16 passengers arriving or leaving a day.

Herro told the commission that during August North Central was forced to leave 294 passengers bound for Rhinelander in Chicago and Milwaukee because of the limited space available on the DC-3 aircraft.

The commission originally voted, in a 2-2 tie, to refuse to endorse the Ashland request of the federal authorities for airport aid. A mail ballot from absent commission member Ted Cole, of Cashton, was rejected, however. Vice chairman Donald Love, of Green Bay, opposed the plan, while members Harry Chaplin, Plymouth, and Willard Pire, Eau Claire, voted to back the local airport. Commission chairman Gordon Leonard of Milwaukee was also absent.

The final vote was 3-0 to endorse Jordan's objection.
